Midway Attacked By Jap Planes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. navy announced this afternoon that Midway Island in the Pacific was attacked by Japanese aircraft this morning.

(Midway Island forms one corner of a triangle of which the apex would be San Francisco and the other corner Dutch Harbor, attacked by the Japanese Wednesday.)

Crash at Tacoma

TACOMA, Wash., (AP)—A U.S. army fighter plane crashed and burned about 40 feet off the busy Pacific Highway south of the city centre today, the pilot walking away unhurt from the blazing plane.

On Wartime Basis

SEATTLE (AP)—Rear Admiral C. S. Freeman, 13th U.S. Naval District commandant, issued sweeping orders today putting Seattle's harbor areas on a wartime basis against possible sabotage and attack. The orders include the Lakes Washington and Union shorelines.

Survey B.C. Route

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C.—Unconfirmed reports circulated here today that U.S. engineering crews would leave here shortly to survey a possible railway route through northern British Columbia from Prince George to Alaska. Scheduled for opening here next week is an office for H. A. Maple, representing the Seattle district office of the U.S. Engineering Corps.

Used British Bomb?

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts, AP)—The German radio asserted today the fatal attack on Reinhard Heydrich was carried out with both bomb and automatic pistol made in Britain. The broadcaster read a dispatch from Prague giving the first complete German version of the killing.

(See death story, Page 12).

Japan Silent

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts, AP)—The Berlin radio tonight broadcast a Tokyo dispatch stating: "No reports are available in Tokyo so far concerning the Japanese air attack on Dutch Harbor, it was reported by the minister of the navy department."

Studies Manpower

VANCOUVER (CP)—Maj. Gen. L. R. LaFleche, associate deputy minister of the Department of National War Services, said here today Canada's drafting of men into the military forces is working excellently.

"But the problem of putting our whole manpower to work in the war effort to the best advantage is a continuing problem," he said. "The whole nation is yet going to school on that problem, but we are learning fast. That is what I came out here for, to learn for myself more about the problem. That is the only way to learn."

Victoria Airman Reported Missing

Flt-Sgt. Noel Gratton of Victoria is reported missing in air operations May 30, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Gratton, 1515 Fort Street.

Flt-Sgt. Gratton was born in Yokohama and educated in Victoria at Malvern House and Victoria High School. He joined the Royal Canadian Air Force in February, 1941.

Fuel Oil Order

OTTAWA (CP)—Announcement of regulations restricting the use of fuel oil are not expected to be made public until next week, officials said this afternoon.

(In Toronto, Wednesday, F. G. Neate, deputy coal controller, said "the policy of domestic oil heating will be determined tomorrow, and the necessary regulations will be issued from the office of the oil controller in Ottawa.")

Land in Bohemia

BERLIN (AP)—Emanuel Moravec, propaganda minister of the German-controlled Czech government, addressing a meeting at Prague today, disclosed officially for the first time that young Czech parachutists had been dropped in Bohemia and Moravia with arms and explosives.

R.C.A.F. Ready

OTTAWA (CP)—Attacks by Japanese planes on Dutch Harbor, Alaska, had drawn no comment from defence officials up to late today.

Since the attack on Dutch Harbor was airborne it was assumed here that the R.C.A.F. would be taking whatever action was considered necessary to meet any threat of Japanese attacks on the Pacific mainland.

Bus Services On Mainland Cut

Following the visit to Vancouver of George S. Gray, federal transit controller, curtailment of bus services which have been deemed nonessential, has already begun.

S. Sigmundson, regional transit controller, in Vancouver, states that services now abolished are:

Pacific Stages—Vancouver-Seattle run.

B.C. Coach Lines—Sicamous to Revelstoke, Vernon to Revelstoke and Vernon to Edgewood.

B.C. Greyhound Lines—Kamloops to Revelstoke.

Summer extensions to purely summer resorts will not operate this season. These include runs from Horseshoe Bay to Whytecliffe Park and Ladner to Boundary Bay.

The B.C. Electric Railway Co.'s bus service to Kitsilano Beach has also been canceled in order to conserve gas and rubber.

"Further curtailment of overlapping bus services are imminent," adds Mr. Sigmundson.

B.C. Issue Sets Record In Oversubscription

British Columbia's $16,000,000 refunding issue to meet a P.G.E. maturity was oversubscribed in the record-breaking time of less than 24 hours, it was learned today in a telegram received from Premier John Hart, minister of finance, who is now en route home from the east where he completed the refunding deal.

This is the second record established in connection with this transaction, the largest financial deal put through on behalf of British Columbia for many years. The first record was the financing of this issue through a syndicate on an average cost basis to the province of 3.75 per cent, the lowest-interest rate received for British Columbia bonds on the domestic or New York market in the annals of provincial history. Paving this achievement, however, is the quick oversubscription. The books on the British Columbia bond issue were opened on Tuesday, and by noon Wednesday had to be closed owing to the demand.

Sugar Control First

OTTAWA (CP)—Introduction of coupon rationing for household commodities is being planned by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board with the probability that sugar will be the first commodity affected, Donald Gordon, board chairman, announced today.

Gasoline already is subject to coupon rationing in Canada, but it is handled by the Munitions and Supply Department. Mr. Gordon presumably was referring apparently only to commodities over which the Prices Board has jurisdiction—all foodstuffs, clothing and textiles, some metals and a wide range of other products.

Mr. Gordon said a "canvass of householders" will be necessary before coupon rationing goes into effect, to provide a registration of consumers for issuance of the coupons.

Further details of the proposed coupon system and the canvass would be announced "within a few weeks."

The board chairman said the method of rationing sugar without coupons—introduced last January—has been "a great success" and that there has already been a "gratifying reduction" in consumption of tea and coffee, brought under the "honor system" of rationing May 26.

"There are, of course, many ways of evading any kind of rationing regulations, and the use of coupons does not necessarily mean any greater reduction in consumption or a fairer distribution," said Mr. Gordon's statement.

"However, it is recognized that the use of coupons is a great convenience to the public in keeping track of their consumption, and now that three commodities in general use are subject to rationing, it was evidently desirable that the use of ration cards and coupons should be introduced."

During the past few months the board has been studying the methods used in other countries.

No rationing system could be successful unless it had the full support of every individual citizen, and voluntary reductions in consumption were just as important under a coupon system as under any other system.

Victoria Airman Leads Bombers

WING CMDR. J. D. TWIGG

Wing Cmdr. John Despard Twigg, 28-year-old native son of Victoria, has been appointed to the command of an R.C.A.F. bomber squadron, it is announced today from London.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Despard Twigg, 1000 Chamberlain Street, Wing Cmdr. Twigg succeeds Wing Cmdr. A. C. P. Clayton, D.F.C. and bar, of Vancouver, whose squadron participated in the 1,000-plane attacks on Cologne and Essen. Clayton is to be chief instructor of an officers' training unit in the United States.

Born in Victoria in 1914, Wing Cmdr. Twigg was educated at St. Michael's School, Oak Bay High and the Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont.

On his graduation in the late 1920's he adopted the R.C.A.F. as a profession and after peacetime training was posted soon after war broke out as chief instructor of the R.C.A.F. school at Rivers, Man. He went to the Ferry Command and flew many of the giant bombers across the Atlantic until in November, 1941, he was posted overseas in command of an R.C.A.F. flying boat squadron, which he left for his new appointment.

Wing Cmdr. Twigg's wife lives in Ottawa and is working with the military transport.

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Ralston told the House of Commons this afternoon it was reported there had been a third raid on the United States naval base of Dutch Harbor, Alaska, Wednesday night.

(Later in the afternoon he stated it had been learned this report of another raid was unfounded.)

Col. Ralston said the raids were a type "not unexpected" on the west coast.

A plan of joint action with United States authorities was actually in operation. Canadian officers commanding were co-operating with United States officers.

Lt. Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of the general staff, had been on the west coast for several days dealing with army dispositions.

Earlier today in Washington the United States Navy Department, describing the situation at Dutch Harbor, Alaska, as quiet at that time, reported the second wave of enemy planes which flew over the base Wednesday failed to drop bombs and probably was engaged in reconnaissance.

Damage at Base Not Extensive

A communique declared total damage at the base was not extensive and fires were quickly extinguished after the initial raid at 6 Wednesday morning.

While the source of the attacking aircraft has not been definitely determined, the communique said, they are believed to have been carrier-based.

The two raids against the Alaskan outpost, about 1,800 miles from Victoria, shifted the focus of the Pacific war to North America itself and put defences on the Aleutian Islands to Panama on the alert against further thrusts.

At a press conference shortly before the navy issued its communique, War Secretary Henry Stimson predicted that the attacks on Dutch Harbor were "not the only and the last raids" to be expected on American territory.

Canada's Pacific coast and United States territory to the north and south stood on the alert.

Coastal radio stations went off the air at 9:45 Wednesday night, and a precautionary blackout was ordered at Prince Rupert at 10:30 p.m. In Victoria air raid precaution workers were ordered to be on the alert and stand by their telephones.

No Cause for Alarm, Says A.R.P. Inspector

Watchfulness was general with Inspector S. F. M. Moodie of the British Columbia civilian protection committee saying "that in view of the unsettled condition in the Pacific, while there is no cause for alarm, we have redoubled our ordinary precautions."

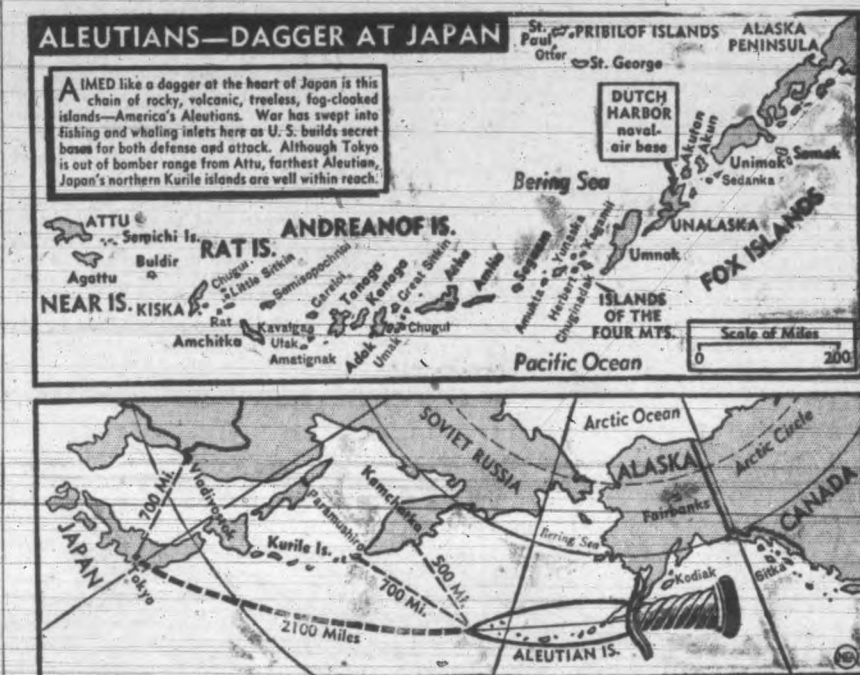

Apart from Prince Rupert no blackout of lights was called. The British Columbia coast's last general blackout was last December following the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor when for three nights a blackout prevailed amid reports enemy forces were off the Aleutian Islands.

Several thousand steel helmets which arrived in Vancouver Monday are being rushed to civilian defence workers throughout the province.

About a quarter of the 8,000 air raid precaution wardens in Vancouver have been furnished with helmets and others were delivered to city police officers. Additional helmets are expected to arrive in B.C. shortly and a large shipment of gas masks for distribution to essential civilian protection services, and the civilian population in the vulnerable coast area is expected by the end of June.

Some persons began leaving Prince Rupert, but the exodus was more among the temporary population than among the permanent residents.

Blackout observers and A.R.P. wardens patrolled the city throughout the night with Lieut. Gen. K. Stuart, chief of the Canadian general staff, and Maj. Gen. John P. McKenzie, quartermaster-general, personally on the ground.

There was a general speeding-up of defensive measures at the northern coastal city.

Other Attacks Due Stimson Believes

In Washington, War Secretary Henry Stimson, who forecast Japanese air raids a week ago, declined today to say where further attacks might be expected, commenting that he did not "care to go into that phase of the Japanese mind."

Experts said the Japanese fighters in the first raid must have come from a carrier, but there was a possibility the bombers came from a land base. Dutch Harbor is about 1,800 miles from the northernmost of the Kurile Islands, which stretch northward from Japan proper.

Unalaska Island, on which Dutch Harbor is situated, is nearly 1,000 miles from the westernmost of the Aleutians, which in turn is some 700 miles from the nearest of the Japanese Kuriles.

Terse official reports indicated the double-barreled attack, the first air raids ever to strike at North America, had inflicted

Commandos Raid Boulogne Area

LONDON (CP)—British commandos scouted German positions in the Boulogne-Le Touquet area across Dover Strait again early today and were reported to have returned with "valuable information"—a phrase which suggests the incidental capture of prisoners.

Warships escorted the black-faced special service troops to and from the French invasion coast and R.A.F. fighter planes covered the withdrawal, a communique said.

The nocturnal action, confusing the invaders in a theatre important to Hitler's continental defences, was described as a "minor reconnaissance raid." The communique supplied few details.

GOT INFORMATION

Later combined operations headquarters stated: "The naval and military force which took part in a minor reconnaissance raid between Boulogne and Le Touquet in the early hours of today," it said, "have now returned to England."

A small contingent of special service troops landed on the French coast, where they engaged the enemy and obtained valuable information. Our troops suffered only slight casualties."

R.A.F. fighter planes were reported to have provided a protective umbrella for the operation and the return. Otherwise there were few details.

THIS VIEW OF DUTCH HARBOR was taken several years ago before it became a beehive of activity, following the decision of the United States to develop a major air base there. Dutch Harbor is nearly 2,000 miles by sea from Victoria.

few casualties and little serious damage.

Pending any official word to the contrary, Washington was inclined to regard the raids as either token reprisals for the recent American bombing of Tokyo and other Japanese cities or as thrusts to test American defences.

But with the southwestern Pacific battle relatively quiet and the battle of Burma ended, officials familiar with the northern Pacific pointed out the Japanese have chosen a moment for the Alaska attack which could mean a shift in the direction of the war.

If the Japanese intend an attempt to establish themselves in the Aleutians either for a major campaign against the American continent or as a defence against United Nations attack from the north, they have at least another month of good flying weather. Summer fogs settle down on the north Pacific islands in late July and August, and might hamper an Allied counter-offensive after the impetus of such an initial Japanese drive was spent.

Marginal Mines To Be Developed

OTTAWA (CP)—Increased production of vital war metals by developing marginal and sub-marginal properties throughout Canada seemed in the offing today, with the probability the government would sponsor the program.

Appointment of a nine-man metals advisory committee to co-operate with Metals Controller G. C. Bateman was announced officially by the munitions and supply department. The statement said:

"The committee will investigate possibilities of increasing Canada's output of zinc, copper and lead, and the potential production of these metals from marginal and sub-marginal properties."

U.S. Senate Completes War Declarations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Congress formally voted war against Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania today, with the Senate unanimously approving resolutions passed Wednesday by the House without dissent.

Without debate, the Senate quickly voted to include the three Axis puppets with three other nations, Germany, Japan and Italy, against which the United States declared war last December.

The Senate vote on the resolutions was 67 to 0 on Bulgaria, 71 to 0 on Hungary and 73 to 0 on Rumania. The balloting was completed in 32 minutes.

Norman Wilks Heads Toronto Conservatory

TORONTO (CP)—Appointment of Norman Wilks, Toronto pianist, to succeed Sir Ernest McMillan, distinguished conductor, as principal of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, effective Sept. 1, has been announced by Floyd S. Chalmers, vice-chairman of the board of governors.

The conservatory said that Sir Ernest, principal since the death of Dr. A. S. Vogt in 1926, has retired "because of the increasing demands that are being made upon him by numerous musical activities," but that he would remain as dean of the faculty of music at the University of Toronto and, because of the close relationship between the faculty and the conservatory, "will continue to take an important part in the relations of the two institutions."

Successful Raids

R.A.F. Blasts Bremen, Hits Dieppe Docks

LONDON (CP)—British bombers heavily blasted Bremen, Germany's second seaport, and British commandos scouted the Boulogne-Le Touquet area of Hitler's French coastal defences Wednesday night, it was announced today.

The Bremen raid, the 94th of the war on that city, was linked with an attack on the Dieppe docks on France's Channel coast. The Air Ministry announced 10 bombers and two fighters were missing from the night operations.

The fliers found the weather favorable and cast their explosive loads upon Bremen by the light of flares, the Air Ministry said.

Nazi airdromes in occupied France and the Low Countries and the harbor installations of Dieppe, on France's Channel coast, also were attacked and mines were laid in enemy waters, it added.

Bremen is a city of 325,000 population, occupying sandy plains on both banks of the Weser River, 46 miles from the North Sea and 300 miles from England's east coast.

Reliable sources said the new nocturnal thrusts were on a moderate scale for the second night in succession, following the crippling 1,000-plane assaults against Cologne and Essen Saturday and Monday nights.

Four German aircraft were destroyed during the night over Nazi bases in France and another over Britain, it was announced.

DAYLIGHT ATTACKS

Dispatches from Folkestone today said heavy explosions were heard from the direction of Boulogne, where the commandos landed Wednesday night, as the R.A.F. resumed its sunshine offensive against occupied France with big morning and afternoon raids.

The heavy tattoo of explosions echoed again from across the Channel late in the afternoon when another swarm of R.A.F. planes struck at the Boulogne and Calais area.

A small number of German planes tried to cross the southeast English coast by daylight, but heavy fire from ground batteries forced them back in some disorder.

Boasting preparations for the destruction are at Desvres, contemplated 2,000-plane-a-night

2 JAPANESE SHOT ON MADAGASCAR

LONDON (CP)—A War Office announcement today that two Japanese naval officers had been shot by a British patrol in Madagascar was regarded here as further proof the Japanese were planning to seize that large French island when Britain moved in.

The officers, one source said, apparently were assigned to make plans of the naval base at Diego Suarez to prepare the way for a Japanese landing.

The British forces in Madagascar, informed persons said, are consolidating their positions around Diego Suarez and there have been no reports of British troop movements outside the area of the naval base.

It was in that area, in a village north of Diego Suarez, that the two Japanese were shot last Monday.

The announcement, issued by the British commanding officer at Diego Suarez, said:

"On the morning of June 1 the native headman of a village in the peninsula of Diego Suarez reported two foreigners had been observed in the village. A British patrol with native guides proceeded to the village. The two foreigners fled before the arrival of the patrol, but were pursued and surrounded.

"When called upon to surrender they opened fire on the British patrol and were shot.

"On examination of their clothing, papers showed they were Japanese naval officers."

Urged to End Sects' Exemption

MONTREAL (CP)—The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire passed a resolution today to petition the Dominion government to repeal the act granting exemption from military service to members of certain sects on "such grounds as their religious beliefs."

The resolution, presented by the Alberta Provincial Chapter, was passed unanimously by the delegates after considerable discussion at the concluding session of the order's five-day annual meeting.

The preamble says Canada is "in need of every measure of loyal support, moral and military, available within her own borders" and added that there are "known to be in our midst organizations and religious sects of direct enemy origins, Hutterites, who, while claiming exemption on religious grounds, we believe at the same time to be using their language as a means of spreading propaganda among their youth, subversive to the Defence of Canada Regulations."

British-French Rout Axis Force From Stronghold

CAIRO (AP)—British armored forces were reported today to have routed Axis soldiers from a desert stronghold in a fierce engagement while their Free French allies held fast against efforts by Field Marshal Erwin Rommel to seize the key position of Bir Hacheim.

A Middle East headquarters communique said British forces, attacking at the "last light of June 2," drove the enemy out of Tamar, 24 miles southwest of Tobruk and six miles west of Knightsbridge, a track centre around which has occurred much of the fighting in this latest Libyan campaign.

"The enemy is known to have lost at least 14 tanks in this engagement," the communique declared.

The German field commander apparently desired to capture Bir Hacheim, southern end of a severed line which once extended to Ain el Gazala, to make impossible a British counter-attack from that tiny oasis, about 50 miles southwest of Tobruk.

FRENCH IN ACTION

There are Indian troops at Bir Hacheim, but British sources said the main force consists of Free French metropolitan troops plus a battalion of the French Foreign Legion which now is about 85 per cent French.

The communique said Italian troops and some German tanks approached the defending positions at Bir Hacheim, but the attack "was not pressed home."

"Our columns in the neighborhood attacked the enemy in the rear," the communique said, while the R.A.F. successfully engaged dive bombers which assaulted Bir Hacheim.

Strong Free French and British forces were assaulting German supply lines which flow around the British position at Rotunda Segnali, 44 miles west of Knightsbridge.

FOUGHT AT NARVIK

The Free French at Bir Hacheim are commanded by Gen. Pierre Koenig, an Alsatian who fought with the Foreign Legion in the Rif warfare, helped capture Narvik in the Norwegian campaign, was in Brittany during the battle of France and then joined the Free French forces in French Equatorial Africa. Gen. Koenig was chief of staff of the Free French forces in the Syrian battle.

The communique made no reference to the situation developing north of Bir Hacheim, where Rommel's armored columns previously had been reported attempting to widen nine-mile-long breach in the British line through which the Axis leader was feeding supplies to his hard-pressed forces at Tamar.

7 NAZIS BAGGED

R.A.F. headquarters announced that one fighter squadron shot down seven Junkers dive bombers in the Bir Hacheim air battles.

Declaring it was giving maximum support to the British land forces, the R.A.F. reported concentrations of Axis mechanized units south of Bir Hacheim were "effectively bombed and machine gunned from a low level," and numerous motor transport vehicles damaged and set on fire.

Night bombing raids also were made against the Axis main landing grounds at Derna and Timini. Eight British planes were lost. British bombers also raided the island of Pantelleria, midway

Plenty of Whisky Despite War Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 90 per cent cut in hard liquor production is planned by the end of this year, a W. P. B. spokesman said today, so that the nation's stills may be put to the task of turning out alcohol for use in the manufacture of synthetic rubber and other vital war products.

There is expected to be no shortage of whisky and other liquors during the war, however, because ample stocks are on hand to supply the needs of consumers without any fear of rationing of whisky being necessary.

A goal of 540,000,000 gallons of alcohol has been set for 1943, with 240,000,000 gallons to come from distilleries now producing beverages. Of the total, 200,000,000 gallons derived from grain is to be allocated to the production of butadiene for synthetic rubber. The whole program is expected to consume 136,000,000 bushels of grain, with the emphasis on corn, but with an increased use of wheat as well.

While officials discussed this method of easing the rubber shortage, the latter's companion problem, the Eastern gasoline scarcity, received attention in the House Rules Committee. It decided that the House tomorrow should consider and vote upon legislation to lay a pipe line and dig a canal across northern Florida.

The project would facilitate the flow of oil and gasoline from gulf coast points, by linking 2,000 miles of submarine-proof inland waterways between the Mexican border and Trenton, N.J.

Emphasizing that a supply of beverage whisky and other hard liquor sufficient to last several years is already in the warehouses, the W. P. B. spokesman said it was planned to move 20 rectifying stills from the Pacific Coast and six from idle distilleries elsewhere to the main centres of the straight run whisky industry, principally Kentucky.

The beverage distilleries not to be converted to the program will be largely those which lie off the main transportation lines, approximately 10 per cent of the total.

H. F. Willkie, vice-president and manager of the Joseph B. Seagram Distilleries, told a Senate agriculture subcommittee, meanwhile, that if all stills were converted to the production of highproof alcohol from grain, the output would total 657,000,000 gallons next year.

ESKIMOS INVEST IN WAR SAVINGS

OTTAWA (CP)—From Cambridge Bay, a remote settlement on Victoria Island in Canada's Arctic territories, came a cheque today for $116 from seven Eskimos to buy War Savings Certificates.

The Eskimos, inhabitants of the little trading post which is 1,200 air miles north of Edmonton, authorized the Hudson's Bay Company factor at Cambridge Bay to send the money to Ottawa, using part of their credit on furs which they traded in last spring.

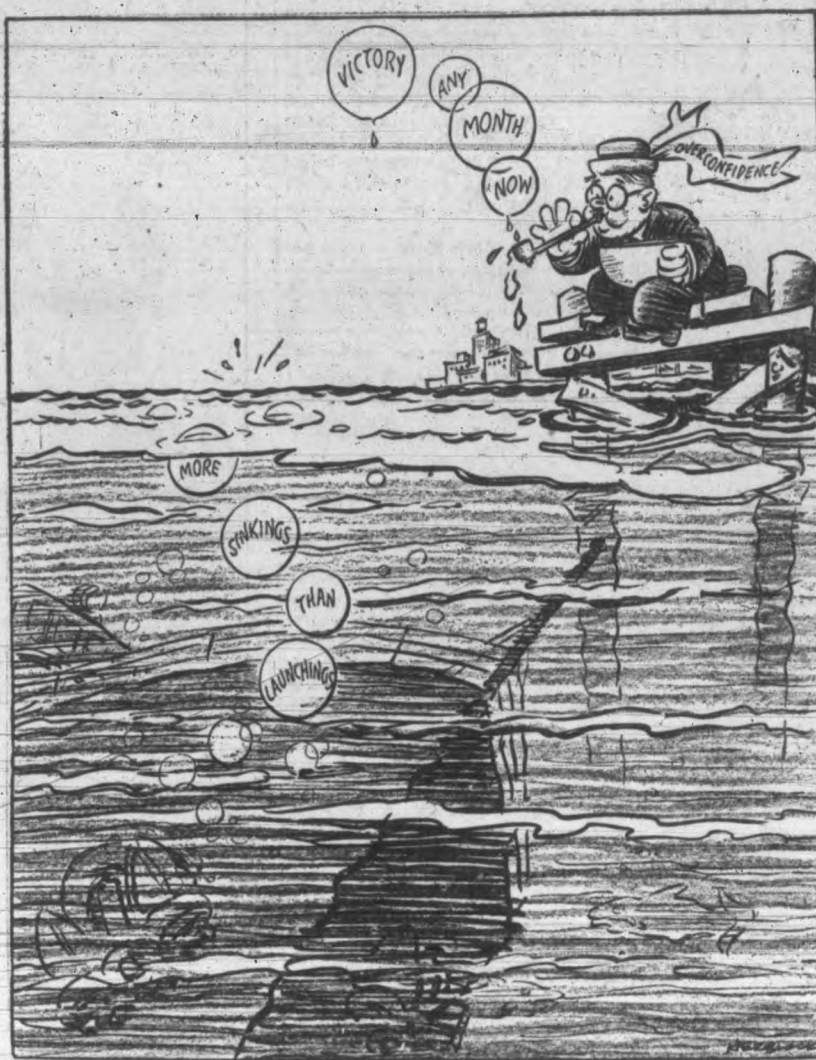

A Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer at Cambridge Bay told the Eskimos about the certificates and their purpose. They replied, through an interpreter, that they wanted to "help the government and keep Hitler away from the Eskimos."

The seven will get their certificates when the supply ship reaches the tiny, northern outpost some time this summer.

Life Insurance Aids War Effort

MONTREAL—Pledging life insurance to maximum service for all-out war effort, G. W. Bourke, president of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association, and chief actuary of the Sun Life Assurance Company, appealed at the annual meeting of the association for maximum economy in selling practices, complete elimination of peacetime frills and simplification of policy plans and services.

While 20 per cent of life insurance men are now in active national service and the business itself has been critically examined to conserve manpower and materials, Mr. Bourke declared that "life insurance will face cheerfully whatever further wartime restrictions may be necessary. Although not a war industry, it is an essential service, one which cannot be provided in any other way, one that has aroused many a man and woman to a realization of their duty to act today and not tomorrow."

"We in the insurance business," he continued, "must not only meet the problems of the present, we must anticipate the future. The post-war reconstruction period will bring with it broad changes in national and international law and economy. The world must surely learn one lesson, above all others, from this war—that nations cannot survive and yet live unto themselves alone. The post-war period must see a vast expansion in the free exchange of goods and services between nations if our civilization is to persist. That has been guaranteed by the Atlantic Charter, and the exchange of insurance services will play its proper part in the fulfillment of that charter."

INTERNATIONALIZED

Pointing out that life insurance operations already were internationalized and that Canadians were able to buy in the biggest and best market in the world, Mr. Bourke emphasized the true reciprocity that exists between Canadian and United States members of the Canadian Life Insurance Officers' Association, and continued:

"In both countries, life insurance has developed in a spirit of competition between companies enjoying similar benefits under the law regardless of whether a particular company was domiciled in Canada or the United States. Let us hope that this situation will continue, and that we shall be able to serve the public operating under legislation designed to secure reasonable supervision of insurance; and let us oppose any attempt at 'exclusive' legislation involving penalties and discrimination."

"As I have already stated," Mr. Bourke concluded, "life insurance companies are simply groups of thrifty and prudent citizens who have co-operated for their own protection and for the protection of their beneficiaries. It should be made clear to the people of Canada that the life insurance companies are their companies. Any interference beyond that which is necessary under an insurance law, such as is ours today, would unduly obstruct the rights of those people. The only criterion which should be allowed to govern is the efficiency with which the benefits of life insurance can be offered to the public and continuously administered."

Road Builders Drive Toward Alaska

EDMONTON (CP)—Equipped with some of the finest road-building machinery ever to come out of the United States, the U.S. Corps of Engineers is smashing through the "pioneer" road to Alaska at a rapid rate, it was learned here.

Initial engineer camp in northern British Columbia has been moved ahead several miles to keep pace with the "bulldozers" and other equipment which is "busting through" in an attempt to reach the destination by fall.

The engineer forces now are travelling through some of the wildest country on the North American continent, inhabited only by wild animals and an occasional band of Indians.

With no contact with the outside world except by airplane, the engineer forces are living on dehydrated vegetables and fruit and canned meat.

DURBAN, South Africa (CP-Reuters). Prime Minister Jan Smuts has announced that a coastal command with sea and air defences embracing the Union's four great ports—Cape Town, Durban, East London and Port Elizabeth—is being formed in South Africa.

The prime minister, who has just returned from a visit to Egypt, said two South African divisions serving in North Africa are being converted into tank divisions.

"Japan, which is threatening us by pushing into the Indian Ocean, must be kept off at all costs," he said in an address to coastal command units here. "The danger is fast approaching us. We have a double task, not only of locking the front door of the north but the back door to the east."

TEACH ALL ENGLISH

Compulsory teaching of the English language throughout the Dominion was urged by Mr. Stewart. He said it should embrace the province of Quebec and the Dionne quintuplets "for which the province of Ontario has done so much." He recommended one school system as an aid to national unity and a uniform marriage law which would prevent annulment of Ontario marriages in Quebec.

"We will fight in the streets and in the fields but we will never permit segregation of Quebec from Canada or Canada from the British Empire," said Rev. William Thomas, pastor of Cooke's Church. "If it comes to civil war, we will not be the ones to start it but we will be the ones to finish it."

Freyberg Promoted

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—Major Gen. Sir Bernard Freyberg, V.C., commander of the New Zealand Expeditionary Force in the Middle East, has been promoted to the temporary rank of lieutenant-general.

Defence Minister F. Jones said this was "yet another well-deserved honor for a soldier whose whole career has been marked by fearless courage and devotion to duty."

Steel Prosecution

MONTREAL (CP)—General Metals Products Inc., through its management, pleaded guilty Wednesday to charges of using steel in the fabrication of metal cabinets and refrigerators without authorization. Sentence was deferred until Friday. The complaint, first of its kind in the Montreal district, said the company made 400 metal clad refrigerators and 200 metal storage cabinets without authorization.

War Prices Board To Use Spotters

OTTAWA (CP)—The War-time Prices and Trade Board is going to employ additional enforcement officers to keep a closer watch on "chiselers." It has been disclosed by a board official.

While he said he did not think there was any organized "black market" in rubber or motor fuel, this spokesman said there was a certain amount of "chiseling" by people who wanted more of such commodities than was normally available.

"The time is coming for us to do a little spot-shopping—sending investigators around to find places where such things as tires and gasoline can be bought by persons not entitled to them," he said.

Almost simultaneously the munitions and supply department said names of individuals given permits to have tires re-treaded, or to buy new ones, will be turned over to newspapers for publication, in a move aimed at discouraging unwarranted applications.

Need New Methods In Religion

VANCOUVER (CP)—Delivering his charge at the 50th synod of the Anglican diocese of New Westminster, Sir Francis Heathcote, Bishop of New Westminster, declared that "if Canada is to remain a Christian country, new efforts must be put forth and new methods employed, for democracy rests on Christian principles."

He referred to a remark he said had been made recently by a high-ranking Canadian army officer to the effect "he had never known an army less given to temperance and viciousness of life than our own, but at the same time so ignorant of religion."

"The army contains people from every walk of life and from every province, but that such a remark can be made with sincerity reflects upon the religious education given," he said.

The synod unanimously passed a resolution urging such "a change in the school act as will enable religious instruction to be given in schools and in school hours by accredited religious teachers."

Try to Abandon All Price Boosts

CALGARY (CP)—Reporting "great abuse" by some manufacturers of the system of authorizing price increases in deserving cases above the price ceiling, Edgar C. Burton, retail trade administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, predicted "another freeze" in prices in a couple of months.

He told a meeting of retailers here he hoped by fall there would be no more price increases at all, so retailers "would know where they are at."

Ready to Fight Civil War to Hold Quebec

TORONTO—William J. Stewart, M.L.A., in an address here warned Quebec that "secession is unthinkable." Quebec, he said, belonged to Canada and Canada to the British empire.

Four hundred persons attending the rally unanimously endorsed a resolution expressing firm opposition to any weakening of British influence in the Dominion.

"We believe this is an opportune time for our leaders to declare themselves definitely on this vital question to safeguard the rights, interests and aspirations of true Canadians," the resolution stated. "Efforts of legislators should be directed to correcting inequalities and injustices existing in our economic system so that subversive and non-British elements will not find a fertile field for revolutionary propaganda."

Japs Over Dutch Harbor

DUTCH HARBOR IS AN ADVANCED base of prime importance in any campaign against Japan. Thus, it is logical it should be one of the first targets of the enemy in the North Pacific. The Japanese will probably try to raid it at intervals to impair its usefulness.

In view of the apparently limited nature of yesterday's attack with only four bombers and 15 fighter escorts, strategists in charge of defence of this coast realize that it may have been only a feint to draw attention from plans for striking elsewhere in greater force. If the attack was launched from one or more airplane carriers, it may be taken as probable that the Japanese will seek to strike at other objectives in the Unalaska and Alaska area. It would be illogical that they should make the 2,500-mile trip from Japan just to do a few minutes' bombing and then return home intact, passing up nearby objectives.

Commentators jumped to the conclusion that the Dutch Harbor attack was in retaliation for the raid on Tokyo by United States planes. There is no reason to assume this to be the case. When the Japanese undertake such a retaliatory raid it will be on a more spectacular scale than the raid on a lone and far distant outpost such as Dutch Harbor, important as it might be from a strategic point of view. To make up for the damaging of their chief city, Tokyo, their national pride will not be satisfied until they shower devastation on a centre of corresponding importance on this continent.

Storm Ahead

WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS, FORMER foreign correspondent and now foreign editor of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, writes: "Reports accumulating daily no longer leave room for doubt that the lid is to blow off a globe-encircling Axis offensive on land, sea and in the air. Information coming through diplomatic channels indicates clearly that Germany, Japan and Italy are ready to strike in Europe, Asia and Africa, on all the oceans and perhaps even in the Americas with a series of desperate drives."

These Axis plans to a certain extent may be checked by the merciless hammering Germany is now receiving from the Royal Air Force and more so in the not distant future, possibly by an invasion of the European continent. However, the next few weeks may well see an extension of operations on the Russian front; another German attack through the Mediterranean toward Cyprus and Syria; intensified efforts on the part of Japan to crush China, and perhaps Japanese offensives against the Russians in Siberia and against Australia; seizure of the French fleet by the Germans; bombing attacks by Axis forces on both east and west coasts of America; intensification of submarine warfare against our shipping; Nazi uprisings in Latin America, and efforts to bomb the Panama Canal.

It is conceivable that many of these things may happen before the end of June. In the weeks just ahead, we of the United Nations must be psychologically ready for the greatest crisis we have ever faced, for we must face it and triumph over it. Otherwise it will mean the end of our civilization.

No Easy Let-Down This Time

PROFESSOR MACK EASTMAN, AN internationally-known Canadian who can view the League of Nations through the detached eye of a historian, and himself for long a member of the League secretariat, said on his visit to Victoria the other day what many of liberal tendencies have been thinking. He said that something like the League, its weaknesses removed, must be constructed by the victorious United Nations at the conclusion of the current war.

Proposals for the retention of overwhelming armed force by the victors at the termination of a terrible conflict may fail to appeal to the ardent pacifist and humanitarian, but as Mr. Eastman points out, it was this very spirit of pacifism and humanitarianism that led to the rise of the European dictators. Perhaps circumstances will work against repetition of the errors of the peace makers at the end of the last war. Mr. Eastman suggests it was the policy of laissez faire pursued by the apparently "safe" countries of the British Commonwealth and the United States that forced the danger-conscious lands of France, Poland and Czechoslovakia to deal so generously with defeated Germany that Hitler's appeal for violent revolt found ready ears. This time there will not be the temptation for Britain, Canada, the United States nor indeed, Australia, to feel "safe." Nor is it likely that mistaken appeals for immediate demobilization and disarmament at the conclusion of hostilities will be heeded.

Even if the Axis countries are beaten so badly that their last soldier is stripped of his uniform, their last gun spiked and their last warship sunk, the United Nations must remember the feelings of the fear-stricken countries now occupied by the Axis and maintain force for their permanent protection.

Fuel Oil Curtailment

IT DEVELOPS THAT HON. C. D. HOWE in his recent announcement on fuel oil (for householders, no oil at all next winter) had gone too far. There will be no oil for larger consumers, but there will be some for smaller consumers coming within certain classifications.

Officials at Ottawa are trying to iron out the rumpus caused by Mr. Howe's statement. The Financial Post says that even had he been exact, he would still have put his foot into it by speaking so long in advance of the time against which officials had worked out their plans. These plans call for gradual curtailment in the use of oil, especially in British Columbia and the Maritimes where the shortage may be most acute.

The Ottawa Citizen says the unnecessarily startling announcement was due to Mr. Howe being overworked. It is too much for any one man to be responsible, as is Mr. Howe, for the administration of shipbuilding in Canada, aircraft production, state-owned munition factories with products ranging from optical glass to guns and synthetic rubber, transportation of every kind, and for the production of raw materials of war from natural resources. With respect to all these, it is expected that he be prepared to answer questions in Parliament at almost any moment. He is overloaded with the work of what should be divided among three ministers.

However, as matters stand now, buildings in Victoria of three apartments and more will be denied fuel oil after the end of this month. Duplexes and one-family houses are still able to get oil. The reason for this is that as long as gasoline is being produced in Canada there will be available a residuum of fuel oil to be marketed. Cracking a 42-gallon barrel of crude yields about 19 gallons of gasoline and 10 gallons of residual fuel oil along with smaller quantities of other grades. As gasoline production in volume must be continued for aviation and other war purposes, there will be available a quantity of fuel oil. In the distribution of this the plan is to give the small consumer the break, after war industry requirements are met, because it is felt that a change-over to other fuel would bear more heavily on him proportionately than it would on larger commercial consumers.

Notes

Salamis, Actium, the Nile, Trafalgar, Mobile, Manila Bay, Santiago, Jutland, Macassar Strait, the Coral Sea—what musical names the stout seadogs find for their battles.

Our boys overseas are preparing for big things in a big way. The BBC reports the Canadian army building one of the largest airbases in Britain for use by R.C.A.F. squadrons. Soldier lumbermen of the Canadian Forestry Corps are clearing the ground. Some of the concrete runways are more than a mile long.

Gasoline rationing is to be thanked for taking away much senseless and unnecessary driving. It inconveniences mostly those buzzabouts who have had the habit of driving nowhere furiously thousands of miles every year. Lots of these folk will be alive at the end of this year who, under normal circumstances, would have crowns upon their foreheads and harps within their hands.

Grafting has become a serious problem in the Italian Fascist Party and the party's directorate has had to order a purge of members guilty of "unethical conduct in the face of the war." Rome radio reveals that Fascists with executive powers can no longer hold jobs in business firms without party sanction. Recent reports from Rome that Fascists were using their party membership as a shield for large-scale profiteering are not surprising.

General Rundstedt, who has been placed in command of the Nazi troops in France, must have changed if he entertains optimistic views on the outcome of the war. Like other German generals, he has written about the war of 1914-18. "Time works always against a continental power at war with England," he wrote. "What was true in the past is still more true today, when armament industries depend first and foremost on imports of raw materials from overseas. The continental power that wishes to defeat England has no chance of victory if she has not been able to secure the assistance of Russia or the United States as an ally."

WHERE THE WAR WILL BE WON

From Ottawa Journal.

Mr. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, is reported as saying this to the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities:

"The war is going to be won on the North American continent and with the United States and Canada the only two countries that have mastered the technique of mass production."

It would be better if we here in Canada didn't start talking that way. Because the war isn't going to be won on the North American continent, and Canada and the United States are not the only two countries that have mastered the technique of mass production. The technique of mass production seems to have been mastered fairly well by Russia. And Britain hasn't done badly.

The war is going to be won in Europe. The process of winning it began when Soviet Russia, who had more guns and tanks and planes—mass production—than most of us thought she had, began driving Hitler's armies back from Moscow. The conclusion of winning it will come when the German armies are beaten in Europe.

Bruce Hutchison

BATTING AVERAGE

THE BATTING AVERAGE of Washington in gauging the course of the war is so low that no rookie with such a record could long remain in the big leagues. In June 1940, as this reporter can testify from the ground, Washington expected Britain to surrender. In 1941, as I also know, the best minds in the Capital were sure that the Russians would last at most six weeks. (There were a few notable exceptions, of course, but they were exceptional indeed.)

Thus, one is inclined to be a trifle impatient when people ask of anyone returning from Washington when the war will be over. It would be wiser, perhaps, to ask in Saanich or Esquimalt. There were more stout hearts in the farms of Saanich and the beer parlors of Esquimalt in 1940 and 1941 who were sure everything would turn out all right than there were in the cocktail bars and air-conditioned offices in Washington.

VAGUE PROPHECY

HOWEVER, if you insist on what appears to be a general view among the best minds in Washington, I think it would run like this:

If the Russians can hold the Germans until the autumn, even if they are pushed all over the map—if, in fact, the German armies have not knocked Russia out of the war by the time snow flies, then we may look for strange developments inside Germany. No one is foolish enough to expect a sudden breakdown or a quick revolution. But there is a definite expectation that if the German generals see that they cannot win the war they will unload the Nazi regime and try to make the best deal possible, as they did in 1918—in the hope of rebuilding yet again for another war later on.

Thus should the Russians still be fighting fairly successfully by late autumn we may look for a peace offensive out of Germany, the strongest yet attempted. It will fail. Though there are considerable elements in the United States population, the still smouldering remnants of the old isolationist group, the most dangerous forces in the republic, which would make a deal with Germany, there is no possibility that the American government or the American Congress, will fall for any such plot. If one thing is clear in Washington it is that the United States will insist on a complete victory and a peace settlement starting at the very bottom of the heap.

WILL HANG ON

WILL THE RUSSIANS be able to hold out? Again, one hesitates to quote the general opinion of Washington because it has been wrong so often. But if you must have it, the opinion is that the Russians, though they may lose ground as they did last year, will hang on. And this opinion is shared by some of the few men who always believed Britain would stand, who never believed last year that Russia would go under. Some of these men I know, and know their secret views since the outbreak of war. In them I have a good deal of confidence.

But these same men, and all the best men, believe that the job of defeating the Axis is larger than most Americans have yet grasped. One single, vital fact, will illustrate it. We cannot defeat the Axis without carrying men, weapons and supplies against them. Yet our ability to do this at the moment is declining instead of increasing. It is known now to all that more ships are being sunk today than are being built by the United Nations. The exact figures, of course, are secret, but that basic fact is not. Our shipping position is worsening.

This does not mean that it will continue to worsen. The United States will build next year almost as much tonnage as Britain owned at the beginning of the war. Such a job of construction has never been known in the world before. On the other hand, it may be possible before long to reduce the depredations of the German submarines which, at the moment, are exploiting the far-flung distribution of the United States navy. When there are enough naval ships to convoy along the Atlantic coast, as across the Atlantic, submarine losses should show a sudden drop. When the United States has completed the organization of its air patrol, its huge fleet of small anti-submarine craft, the story should be different. But at the moment it is black indeed, the most serious single fact, for us, in the world.

PLAIN FACT

WHEN WE TALK LIGHTLY about huge overseas expeditionary forces, this fact must be remembered. Our ability to transport huge forces overseas will decline if the ratio between ship launchings and sinkings is not drastically altered. At this rate we shall be less able to carry huge armies overseas next year than we are now. All this is frankly admitted in Washington and in the writings of the best-informed military writers. The admission of the difficulty is the best assurance that it will be overcome.

But clearly at the moment, any increased movement of troops overseas, any increased movement of weapons and supplies, must be at the expense of civilian movements. It is not possible to move bananas from South America, tea from the Orient or even sugar from the West Indies in ships that are needed to carry arms to Britain and Russia. A steady decline in luxury imports, perhaps their disappearance, is certainly in sight.

Parallel Thoughts

REPLACING HIGH OFFICERS

From Winnipeg Free Press

Considering the severity of the test of high officers of the armed forces in this life and death struggle, it should not be surprising that replacements are often found to be necessary. The man who is let out will feel badly unless he finds consolation in the fact that he belongs to a considerable company.

The highest ability and the utmost vigilance are demanded of those in military posts of great responsibility, and if they fail in any degree to meet the test, they must go. The national safety requires it. The consideration and tolerance of partial failure that might be extended to a public official in peacetime, cannot be allowed in this desperate conflict. Judgments should not be too hard, but inexorable necessity demands that there be no hesitation about any change that will help in the successful prosecution of the war and the destruction of the gangster powers.

Every time we utter a word of peace we run the risk of offending one side or the other.—Pope Pius XII.

SALUTING OF OFFICERS

Warrant Officer in Toronto Star

I served in the C.E.F. from 1914 to 1919 with the 1st Division, was wounded three times. My opinion is that for men to have to salute officers when off duty or away from military grounds is just a lot of nonsense. If there is one thing that would keep me from again offering my services that is it. I would like to ask Mr. Otte-well do the Russian soldiers salute their officers at present when off duty, and if they don't, how does he think they are doing such a nice job without it?

NICKEL OUT OF NICKEL

The War Production Board has ordered the nickel taken out of 5-cent pieces to conserve metal needed for munitions. The old coin was three-fourths nickel and one-fourth copper. The new nickel will be one-half silver and one-half copper. Total saving: 435 tons of nickel a year, one-fourth of the nation's annual consumption.

INEPTITUDES

HITLER'S DYNAMIC LIE

Ralph Ingersoll, Editor of PM

If Hitler can put his lies over, you are done for.

You are fighting against an enemy who not merely lies but whose whole politics is based on what he calls the dynamic lie—the political lie told purposefully to produce a certain specific effect. Like the lie that there is a chemical difference between the bloods of people whose skins have different pigmentation and therefore for the world social system should be ordered according to a racial theory. Like the lie that the Jews control everything and are about to revolutionize the world. Like the lie that we started the war.

Your enemy is handicapped by no morals. His way of replenishing his army is to send young boys and girls away to camp together, no questions asked. His way to handle man's faith in God is to announce that he is fighting for Christendom and then to thumb his nose at the Ten Commandments and burn, bomb or misappropriate the churches in which the Ten Commandments are preached. In one country he fights to protect Christendom under a blasphemous crooked cross. In another he is the defender of the Mohammedans against the Christians. In still another he backs the pagan Japanese in their war to exterminate Christianity in China, by force.

He is a liar, a thief and a murderer. He has been in power for the last 10 years in Europe, growing stronger on the blood of his dead and the sweat of his captives.

Never has there been a war in which the courage, the endurance and the loyalty of civilians played so vital a part.—President Roosevelt.

Old Metal Tubes
To Make Planes

OTTAWA (CP)—The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has announced that used collapsible metal tubes must be delivered to a drug, cigar, general or departmental store and that "no person may lawfully keep in possession any used collapsible metal tubes longer than reasonably necessary for delivery."

The board said it is a breach of the new regulations, effective last Monday, to "destroy or throw away" any "empty collapsible metal tube which contained any substance or matter."

Under the new order Samuel Godfrey, administrator of used goods, is empowered to make "such orders as he deems necessary" for collection of the tubes. They will become the property of the government-administered Wartime Salvage Ltd., recently set up to direct salvage operations in Canada.

MATERIAL FOR PLANES

Stressing the importance of careful salvage, the board's announcement estimated that about 250 used tubes would supply the necessary tin soldier for a Belling-broke bomber.

"Tin must be provided for war purposes," the board said. "We have depended on it heavily for many commercial uses, such as preservation of out-of-season fruits, and acted as if a never-ending supply were assured."

"It has been estimated that if Canada were to continue at the 1941 rate of tin consumption we would exhaust in one year the total stocks, both government and industrial."

"Drastic curtailment is obviously necessary. Reclamation of used metal is something that now attains unprecedented importance."

AS THE VETS MARCH PAST

The article in last Saturday's Times, headed "As the Vets March Past," is difficult to deal with, because the writer obviously meant well and his observations on march discipline were to the point. Unfortunately, it gave the impression that the Vets are a pathetic bunch of well-meaning crooks and of little military value all of which is far from true. At no time have they ever had to struggle to maintain the proper interval with troops ahead, and that bit about having "white and drawn faces from driving battered old bodies" was particularly depressing, because instead faces were red and perspiring, but no more so than those of "the virile young troops" ahead.

The members of the Veterans Reserve Company referred to are capable of giving a good account of themselves under any circumstances, and any ex-soldier who is reasonably fit should stop kidding himself that he is doing his bit, and join them. Not only would he find himself rejuvenated and in the best of company, but he will attain the peace of mind which the present organizations to which he belongs probably do not offer.

SECOND FRONT—OR DEFEAT

It is said that the Japanese will attack the Soviet Union this month, or next. What will it mean if Russia falls?

England falls then too. And we on the North American continent would be the next in line for attack.

Only the U.S.S.R. stands between the world and slavery. But it is not yet too late. A second front must be opened.

Why is there no demand made here by our "free press" for a second front? In England the papers are full of such demands, letters pouring in from all classes of people and organizations. Here, what? Complete silence and ignoring of this vital matter. What apathy, what complacency?

In England the British are "going to go" against Hitler. According to a test of British public opinion taken recently by the Gallup poll there (London), the invasion of Europe is uppermost in the minds of Britons, the poll revealed.

The future of the world depends on the battles today being fought out on the eastern front, the Dean of Canterbury told a meeting of the National Council of British-Soviet unity last week. The opening of a second front is "our inescapable duty," he declared, and urged immediate action to end the war this year.

"In the eastern front the destiny of the world is being fought," the Dean said. "Russia is bearing the burden. I have no doubt of the final outcome, but if we made an attack in the west, the war would be shortened, countless lives saved and we could see the end in 1942."

"That attack is our inescapable duty," he said.

Today 80 per cent of the German divisions are engaged on the eastern front. A bare fraction of the Luftwaffe is poised in western Europe. British troops have had almost two years in which to organize. The U.S.S.R. and the U.S.A. are now in the war.

In the days of Dunkerque all Europe was dazed by German invincibility. Today all the world knows that the German army can be stopped, and beaten, thanks to our Soviet Allies.

Two years ago Germany had lost thousands of men. Today it has lost millions. Then it had just acquired the arsenal of Europe—and had hardly used its own. Today it has lost nearly 20,000 planes and tanks and 25,000 guns. Two years ago a disarmed and disorganized British and French army was all that faced the German legions, but today the greatest military might in the world is pounding them on the plains of Russia, and we have "idle armies" waiting, and eager.

On top of that Europe itself is stirring and fighting back, a western front now would bring to life anti-Fascists by the thousands, who now are forced to lay low. Why don't you imitate Lord Beaverbrook's newspapers and insist on a western front being opened? Don't you want to see this fearful slaughter ended? And please don't tell me to leave it to the "experts". We left the "appeasement" to them, and see where it got us, all of us.

Dorothy Primeau Wed in Saanich This Morning

This morning at 10 in the vestry of the Church of the Assumption, West Road, Saanich, Rev. Father Cyr officiated at the marriage of Dorothy Hammond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aurele N. Primeau, Centre Road, Sidney, and Mr. Thomas Alexander Gunn of Saanichton, son of Mrs. Gwendolynne Gunn and the late Donald Gunn of Saanichton.

The ceremony was quiet, only immediate family connections of the bride and bridegroom being present. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a redingote of pale blue sheer over a printed frock with background of the same color, a matching hat with close-fitting veil, and navy accessories. Her bouquet was of pink roses and white sweet peas. Her sole attendant was her matron-of-honor, Mrs. Thomas Gurton, who wore a rose ensemble with matching hat, beige accessories and a corsage bouquet of tea roses. Mr. William Gunn, the bridegroom's brother, acted as best man. The bride's mother, Mrs. Primeau, was costumed in a blue tailored suit with white accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations, and the bridegroom's mother an ensemble of Cambridge blue with hat of the same color and black accessories. Her shoulder bouquet was of white carnations.

The church ceremony was followed by a small reception and family luncheon party at the Royal Oak Inn, which was attractively decorated with spring flowers. For the honeymoon, which is being spent on the mainland, the bride donned a coat of French grey wool crepe over her bridal dress. On their return to Vancouver Island Mr. and Mrs. Gunn will make their home in North Saanich.

Hospital Graduate Married in England

Led by Assistant Section Officer Hawkes, W.A.A.F., about 60 colleagues of the bride formed a guard of honor at St. David's Church, Exeter Down, April 2, when Section Officer Audrey Kathleen Hooper, W.A.A.F., younger daughter of Major G. A. B. Hooper (C.A.S.) retired, of Melbourne, Australia, and the late Mrs. Margaret Hooper of Halifax, N.S., was married to Mr. John W. P. Martin, elder son of Mrs. Martin of Derby and the late Mr. P. J. Martin of Abingdon Banks.

The bride was well-known in Victoria, being a graduate of the Royal Jubilee Hospital. Her aunt, Miss Rohals Hooper, lives at Christmas Avenue. She went to England in 1940 to volunteer for service and joined the W.A.A.F. July 1, receiving her commission in July, 1941, and being promoted to Section Officer in February, 1942.

She was given away on her marriage by Group Captain Schwarzen-Jones, D.F.C., A.F.C., and her gown was of fine angora in an attractive shade of mist blue having a deep yoke with V opening at the neck. The draped bodice was molded to the figure with a wide corselet belt and had full bishop sleeves finished at the wrist as at the neck with a small self-trimming. A piping of cherry color was the only trimming. The same piping outlined her black hat, which had a filmy veil of mist blue that fell over her face-shoulder length. A spray of carnations the same color as the piping on the dress completed her ensemble.

A reception was attended by a large number of colleagues of both bride and bridegroom. The bridegroom, who went as R.R. service engineer to France at the start of the war, when he was attached to the R.A.F. and was granted an honorary commission as pilot-officer, was accompanied by Mr. C. S. K. Harcomber of Burnham-on-Sea as best man.

Play To Be Given At Music Recital

A one-act comedy, "A Good Girl in the Kitchen," will be presented by members of Parkdale Y.P.S. at the recital to be held in the Victoria Truth Centre Friday night at 8.15 by pupils of Miss Catherine Craig, L.R.S.M. Other numbers will be given by the students in piano, singing and elocution. The play will be directed by Miss Craig. Proceeds of the entertainment will go towards the building fund of Parkdale Sunday school.

Engagements

DAVEY-McLELLAN

The engagement is announced of Mary McLellan, foster daughter of Mr. W. Jones, to Gunner Peter Davey R.C.A., second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Davey, Shelbourne Street, the wedding to take place quietly June 27.

MRS. DOUGLAS J. HUNTER, president of the Royal Jubilee Hospital Alumnae Association who are sponsoring a dance in honor of the 1942 graduating class of the hospital at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club Friday night. Others on the committee include: Mesdames W. Draney, W. Blackett and the Misses Marjorie Alexander, Dorothy Band and Jean Brown. Dancing and entertainment has been planned with Len Acres' orchestra and Maxine High as vocalist and special numbers by the Oak Bay High School Singing Septette.

Social and Personal

Mrs. W. C. Woodward was luncheon hostess today at Government House when covers were laid for 23 guests. The table was attractively centred with a crystal bowl of iceland poppies in orange and yellow shades and spring flowers were used effectively throughout the reception rooms. Tonight His Honor and Mrs. Woodward, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Woodward and Miss Ruth Maclean, will go to Vancouver for the week-end, returning to Government House the beginning of the week.

Private and Mrs. George E. Bowes, who have been living at Langford, have left to reside at Gordon Head.

Mrs. J. P. Roberts and Mrs. Lionel Huntington of Vancouver came to Victoria today to spend a few days here.

Mrs. Ian Phillips, Foul Bay Road, went to Vancouver today to spend a few days there with friends.

Mrs. H. A. Robertson, who has been visiting friends in Vancouver, is now the guest of Mrs. George Kidd, Marine Drive West.

Sub-Lieut. and Mrs. P. Murphy had as their guest for a few days Miss Alleen Dougan of Vancouver, who has now returned to the mainland.

Mrs. C. L. Aylard entertained yesterday afternoon at her home on St. Charles Street at a small bridge party in compliment to Mrs. N. Beketov.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D'Arcy McGee of Ottawa arrived in Vancouver today en route to Victoria to visit their son and daughter-in-law, Sub-Lieut. and Mrs. D'Arcy McGee, Ten Mile Point.

Mrs. Alvin Blake and little daughter, Carol Lynn, who have been visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Frank Smedley, at Langford, have gone to Vancouver to meet Mr. Blake who is arriving from Juneau, Alaska.

Lieut. Bruce Mackenzie of Vancouver, who has been taking an army training course in eastern Canada, has been moved to Gordon Head O.T.C., and with his wife has taken up residence in a suite in Uplands Lodge.

Lt. Gordon Bell, R.C.N.V.R., whose marriage to Miss Gladys Bayley will take place tomorrow arrived in Victoria yesterday and is staying with his parents, Captain and Mrs. W. Bell, Foul Bay Road.

Mrs. John Cameron, a recent bride, has left for a three-months' visit with her husband's parents at Boisvein, Man., and her own parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Skoreyko, at Edvard, Alta. She was accompanied as far as Vancouver by Mrs. R. E. Greenslade, who returned to Victoria Tuesday.

An exhibition of flower paintings by Emily Sartain will be held in the Georgian Room of the Hudson's Bay Company, Vancouver, under the auspices of and for the benefit of the Netherlands Relief Fund. Miss Sartain's work has attracted a great deal of attention both in Vancouver and Victoria and her exhibition held at the Empress Hotel was of particular interest to art lovers here. While on Vancouver Island she painted many beautiful canvasses of native plants and has just completed a study in water colors of Victoria's blue poppies.

Mrs. M. Charrington entertained informally this afternoon at her home in Queenswood.

Mrs. Robert McNair and Mrs. Herbert Bingham of Vancouver are holidaying in Victoria.

Mrs. Francis Hartley, Monterey Avenue, is the guest of Mrs. A. D. McRae at her summer home, "Eaglecrest," Qualicum Beach.

Word was received in the city last week of the death in San Francisco of Dr. W. L. Harpel, who was associated with Dr. Burgess in dental practice in Victoria for many years. Dr. Harpel was also a popular member of the Elks and Shriners.

Miss Florence Kathleen Woodruff, who is to become the bride of Mr. Robert Harris at the First United Church vestry Friday evening, was given a surprise shower by 20 of her friends at the home of Mrs. J. Lewers, 2029 Milton Street. Into a room made gay with white carnations and purple snapdragons, little Jacqueline and Dick Lewers pulled a decorated wagon carrying a cupid-mounted crate filled with gifts. The bride-to-be cut a cake surmounted with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

Misses Leona Simpson, May Hurley, and Marjorie Mitchell entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Simpson, 969 Easter Road, Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Edna Thornber whose marriage to Mr. Hugh Gray will take place next week. Lupines, columbines and irises in shades of mauve and yellow decorated the rooms and the gifts were presented in a box arranged to resemble a flower basket. The bride-to-be received a corsage bouquet of roses and sweet peas and her mother, Mrs. H. Thornber, a bouquet of carnations. Games were played after which a buffet supper was served, from a table lighted by primrose tapers, and rosebuds, in a pottery bowl were reflected in a mirror in the centre of the table. The invited guests were Mesdames A. Simpson, G. Fee, Ford, B. Grower, G. Beasley, and Misses Mary Ricketts, Beatrice May, Vera Banks, Dorothy Richardson, Connie Jones, Kay Foxford, Connie Barlow, Mary Robertson, Beatrice Jourdain, Marjorie Delmastro, Marguerite Lalonde, Marjorie Atwell, Joyce Andrew, Ida Lalonde, Pearl Jago, Marjorie Waldron, Blanche Gage.

R.A.F. Jamboree To Be Held June 16

Another grand fete has been planned by the enterprising social committee of the R.A.F. stationed at Patricia Bay. Although isolated at their station in Sidney, the boys have no intention of "rusticating," and have prepared a full, varied schedule for their jamboree, which will be held at the Crystal Garden June 16. Both ballrooms of the Garden will be open to dancing and a capacity crowd of 1,000 is expected. The popular R.A.F. band will be in attendance. Previous to the dancing, a swimming meet will be held, with crack R.A.F., R.C.A.F. and R.C.N. teams competing. There will also be an exhibition table tennis match between Victoria City and the British girmen, and water polo—contests between teams of both air stations. Proceeds of the affair will go toward buying badly-needed sports equipment for the personnel of the R.A.F. camp at Patricia Bay. Arrangements are being made by an energetic committee headed by Flight Lieut. Herbert, and tickets may be obtained at the Crystal Garden. The doors will open at 7.30.

Weddings

BLUNT-JOHNSON

At the Fairfield United Church Wednesday evening at 8.30 a pretty wedding was celebrated by Rev. W. J. Sippell, D.D., when Ivy-Victoria, younger daughter of Mrs. Eva A. Johnson, 1301 Rudlin Street, and Mr. Edwin John Blunt, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blunt, Nelson, B.C., were married. Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. A. J. Heard, the bride wore a two-piece dress of turquoise blue sheer wool, a small beige and turquoise hat with a veil, beige accessories and a corsage bouquet of sweet peas, roses and gardenias. Mrs. G. R. Pears was her sister's matron of honor, in turquoise blue with a rose hat and accessories, and a corsage bouquet of lily of the valley, pale pink sweet peas and swainsons. Mr. Pears was best man. Miss Gordon Brooks and Mr. Fred Scott acted as ushers. Baskets of early summer flowers decorated the church, and the home of the bride's mother, where the reception was held.

Wearing a royal blue and white ensemble with a corsage bouquet of white roses, Mrs. Johnson, the bride's mother, received the guests, assisted by Mrs. Blunt, who wore a blue costume with corsage bouquet of white carnations, and by the bride's aunt, Mrs. D. B. McPherson, who wore cinnamon brown with yellow roses and beige accessories. Ivory tapers in silver sconces, and vases of Tallisnir roses, flanked the wedding cake on the gold lace-covered supper table. The toast to the bride was proposed by the bride's uncle, Mr. B. Ballantyne.

The honeymoon is being spent at Bridal Falls, Chilliwack, and later—Mr. and Mrs. Blunt will make their home in Vancouver.

RAMSAY-STACEY

St. Alban's Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Tuesday evening, when the Rev. F. Comley united in wedlock, Norma, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Stacey, Snowdrop Avenue, Saanich, to Corporal Richard Charles Ramsay, 21st Provost Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ramsay, Oscar Street.

The church was decorated with spring flowers and palms and the marriage music was rendered by Mr. Hamilton. Miss Elsie Fryatt sang the solo, "O Perfect Love."

The bride who was given away by her father looked attractive in turquoise blue with white accessories, her matching hat being trimmed with white. She carried a beautiful bouquet of Ophelia roses and carnations. The attendants were Miss Betty Walker, as bridesmaid, also in blue with white accessories and carrying a bouquet of carnations and sweet peas and Mr. John McAlpine as groomsmen.

A reception was afterwards held at the home of the bride's parents, and attended by relatives and intimate friends, Mrs. F. Stacey receiving the guests in a light blue sheer dress, and Mrs. Ramsay in brown sheer.

The toast was proposed by Mr. H. Broughton, godfather of the bride. The tables were decorated in pink and white, the bride's table being centred with a two-tier wedding cake. The Misses Nona Mannix, Grace Sinclair and Enid Walker assisted in serving buffet supper.

The young couple left for a honeymoon at Shawnigan Beach Hotel, and on their return will take up residence in Morrison Apartments, Hilda Street, Victoria.

Edmonton Chosen For Next I.O.D.E. Annual Meeting

MONTREAL (CP) — The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, in annual meeting here, decided yesterday to hold next year's annual meeting in Edmonton. Dr. F. Cyril James, principal of McGill University, told members today at the closing session that reconstruction "is not something that can be postponed until the last gun is fired," and urged immediate study of post-war problems.

Addressing the I.O.D.E.'s annual banquet, Dr. James continued: "Canada, and every other country, could have carried through a comprehensive policy of social and economic amelioration with much greater ease during the period between the last war and the present war than they will be able to when this war is finished."

MUST MAINTAIN DEMOCRACY

Democracy can "live or die, according to the amount of work the people of Canada put into it," Mrs. J. D. Detwiler of London, Ont., told members at a meeting Wednesday evening. Reporting on the platform, radio and press committee, of which she is convener, Mrs. Detwiler said that through the committee the I.O.D.E. is "endeavoring to reach out to all the women of Canada to make them conscious of their individual responsibilities, not only in connection with Canada and the Empire, but with the world."

Mrs. H. D. Hedley of Moose Jaw, Sask., convener of the committee on Empire work in India, reported that the Canadian hospital at Nasik, under the Zenana Bible and Medical Mission, cares for approximately 25,000 patients annually. She said it now is crowded with British and Indian wounded from the war zones.

Concert to Close Operatic Season

Another in the popular series of concerts presented by the Victoria Grand Opera Association will be given Friday and Saturday evenings in the association's clubrooms, 1753 Rockland Ave. These will mark the final programs of the season and will feature highlights from musical comedy and light opera.

The cast of artists will include Minnie McCurdy, Gwen Brown, Amy Walton, Phyllis Lockley, Clive Batchelor, Carol Menzies, Vivian McCahill, Peggy Bell, Marjorie Barker, Dorothy Evans, Dave Oldham, Arthur Jackman, William Whitehouse and Bill Cobbett. Refreshments will be served after the performances, which will start promptly at 8.30 each evening.

Canadian Red Cross Society, Victoria City and District branch, is now located in the Hamley building, 602 Broughton Street. New phone number, Beacon 3159.

Seamen's Institute Benefits By Tea

Honoring the King's Birthday and the patriotic purpose of the fund, a red, white and blue motif was used in the decoration of the tea-room at the successful affair sponsored by the Victoria Connaught Seamen's Institute Wednesday afternoon at "Schuhum," the home of Miss Kathleen Agnew, Rockland Avenue.

The proceeds, amounting to $130, will be used for the purchase of wool and comforts for men of the merchant navy.

The president, Mrs. Vernon Thomson, Mrs. J. W. Church, Mrs. W. R. Sayer, and Miss Agnew welcomed the guests as they arrived. All the reception rooms were beautiful with flowers, but the tea-table, with its patriotic theme carried out with poppies, marguerites and lilies, and ranks of candles in the same colors, evoked special admiration. Miss Agnew being responsible for the original conception. The pourers were: Mrs. John Hart, Mrs. Herbert Ansbomb, Mrs. Andrew McGavin, Mrs. W. J. R. Beech, Mrs. Sara Spencer, Mrs. C. E. Wilson, Mrs. William Allan and Mrs. R. P. Clark, and helpers in the tea-room and elsewhere were: Mrs. Allan Perry, and the Misses Nancy Gray (Toronto), Denise Godfrey, Mary Church, Daphne Mangin, Julia Kent Jones, Mary and Margaret Cavin, Sheila Whittemore, Shirley Wiseman, Ellen Ellis, Lorna Trickett, Olive Ashton, Barbara Lane and Lorna Fulton.

The treasurer, Mrs. F. McKenzie, was at the receipt of custom, Mrs. W. Finmore, in costume, collected many a silver piece in her painted initials. C.S.I. (Connaught Seamen's Institute), and another source of funds was the flower sale upstairs, those in charge being Mrs. R. F. MacMillan and Mrs. W. Howitt. Miss Roberts told fortunes.

Great pleasure was given by the two soloists, W. R. Watson, tenor, and A. W. Trevett, baritone, the former singing: "I Hear You Calling Me," "Passing By," "Invictus," and "T Love Life," and the latter: "There's a Land," "Lost in London Town," "My Ships," and "Big Steamers." Mrs. C. C. Wain was the accompanist.

Mrs. J. W. Church was convener of the tea, and Mrs. Claude Gardiner was in charge of the dining-room, assisted by Mesdames Cotter, Cavan, Lane, Quinn and Miss de Trafford.

St. Saviour's W.A. met Monday for the final meeting of the season, with the president, Mrs. T. H. Evans, in the chair and leading the intercessions. Plans were made for the annual garden party, to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. MacTavish, 733 Lamson Street, July 8. Mrs. J. A. Andrews, Diocesan E.C.D.

Oak Bay A.R.P. Fund Assisted By Tea

A large number of guests attended the tea held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Carl Pendray, Beach Drive, in aid of the A.R.P. funds of Oak Bay. Sponsored by the Monterey and Willows Parent-Teacher Association, the affair was a success and effective both from a monetary and propaganda standpoint.

The reception committee included the hostess, Mrs. Pendray, the president of the sponsoring group, Mrs. W. W. Bell and Mrs. A. J. Bewley, and the two general conveners, Mrs. A. L. Stevenson and Mrs. T. B. Lumsden.

The reception-rooms were lavishly decked with garden flowers, and pouring tea at the table covered with a lace-edged cloth and centered with Lady Emily Gray roses and lighted ivory tapers in silver candelabra, were Mrs. W. L. Woodhouse, Mrs. W. A. Pendray, Mrs. J. G. Hazelwood and Mrs. Sidney J. Cave. Assisting in the tea-room were Mesdames W. J. Bromley, L. R. Harper, R. M. Lochead, A. Glenday, G. Hartley and W. Hole. Tea conveners were Mesdames W. W. Walsh and E. L. Aube.

Several talented young musicians contributed the musical program, those taking part being Miss Shirley Gunn, Miss Betty Richardson, Miss Cecille Bushell and John Beckwith. The accompanists were Mrs. Fred Wright and Miss Muriel Patterson.

Mrs. J. M. Gelling and Mrs. H. S. Jones were at the receipt of custom.

Money-raising devices included a number of contests: a white elephant stall in charge of Mrs. R. Stuart Yates; a chair contest in charge of Mrs. O. G. Hogg and Mrs. B. Showers, whose helpers were Misses Barbara Gelling, Barbara Maynard, Betty Jamieson and Pamela Pendray, the winner being Mrs. C. Clarke. (The chair was donated by Mr. Hurley). A cake donated by Mrs. L. H. Duncan and in charge of Mrs. J. H. Fulton assisted by Beverley Yates and Lois Food, was won by Mrs. A. J. Bewley; the plant and flower stall in charge of Mrs. Harold Beckwith and Mrs. P. R. Noel and the "lady with a thousand pockets," Mrs. George Wilkinson, who had as assistant, Mrs. J. McLaren.

Nosegays were popular, being made by Mrs. S. A. Keeble, Mrs. P. Buckle, Mrs. S. H. Hurley, Mrs. P. D. Dutot and Mrs. A. McCabe and the little salesladies were Martha Philpott, June Milburn, Frances Walton, Beverley Dutot, Kathleen Hurley and Kathleen Keeble.

secretary, spoke on this branch of W.A. work. The president closed the meeting with prayer and afternoon tea was served.

Pas-a-Pas Club Holds Successful Tea

Delighted by an entertaining musical and dramatic program, about 300 guests attending the tea sponsored by the "Pas-a-Pas" Club of the First United Church at the beautiful home and gardens of Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, "Kahnaway," Uplands, Wednesday afternoon, left the handsome sum of $110 in silver collections to be used for the club's war work.

Mrs. D. B. Gregson, president, and Mrs. A. M. Patterson, assisted Mrs. Mayhew in receiving the guests, and Mrs. Robert Crawford and Mrs. Neil Grant were in receipt of customs. A war-time tea was served in the dining-room and hall, graceful bowls of fuchsia-shaded rhododendrons centring the tea tables with vases of hepita and pyrethrum and other spring flowers attractively arranged throughout the house. Convening the tea were Miss May Warnock, assisted by Mrs. W. McGregor and Mrs. J. R. Johnson. Special guests pouring tea were Mesdames W. Dawson, C. N. Westwood, H. A. McLeod, A. S. Christie, O. A. Butters, J. A. Skellern, M. L. McLennan, F. B. Gregory, H. M. Wright and Miss Marie Macdougall. Members of the "Pas-a-Pas" served tea.

MANY ATTRACTIONS

Guests wandered through the spacious sea-girt grounds after tea and were offered many attractions. A flower stall was convened by Mrs. C. W. Wilson and gaily-costumed little girls, including Peggy Grant, Jean and Coral Mills and Wilma Aitken, sold dainty posies on trays. Afterwards they mingled in the crowd selling bars of ice cream. A home dainties stall, convened by Mrs. H. M. Wright, assisted by Miss Helen Atack, was popular, as was also the tea cup reading booth.

Mr. D. Gibson, vice-president of the Navy League of Canada, a special guest at the affair, spoke for a few minutes on the work the Navy League is doing throughout Canada, and specially stressed the need of ditty bags for men in the navy.

The musical program, arranged by Mrs. A. S. Christie, was opened with several delightful numbers by the colorfully-costumed pupils of Miss Wynne Shaw's Dancing School, performed on the lawn. The children were: Margaret Jeffries, Sheila Johnson, Jacquelyn Freer, Beverley Iving, Gayle Webster, Marilyn Balcom, Doreen Bull and Diana Bradley, and their numbers were choral, acrobatic, a peasant dance, a Dutch clog dance and a military tap. Selections by a string trio on mandolins were applauded by the guests, the players being Mrs. N. Camusa, Mrs. G. Newstead and Miss May Warnock, accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Wilson. Their selections were:

Albert Bailey Gains Doctorate

The College of Education at the University of Washington announced today Albert Bailey has successfully completed the three years of post-graduate work leading to the degree of Doctor of philosophy. Dr. Bailey was born in Victoria, educated at the Boys' Central School, Victoria High School and Victoria College, and completed his undergraduate work at the University of B.C.

In 1928 he joined the staff of Nanaimo High School as teacher of English, moving in 1929 to the first Saanich High School, which was established in that year. Two years later he was made principal of the Mount Douglas High School in Saanich, a position he held for nine years, when he resigned to take up post-graduate work at the University of Washington.

While at the University Dr. Bailey has served as a teaching fellow and instructor in the College of Education, and assistant director of research in the Northwest Division of Co-ordinated Studies in Education, with headquarters at the University of Washington.

Dr. Bailey has been working for the last two years on a study of the intelligence of school children and its measurement. The results of this study will shortly be published in book form in the "Contributions to American Education" series. Dr. Bailey's study has already been accepted by the university as his doctor's dissertation.

While at the University of Washington, Dr. Bailey was elected a member of Phi Delta Kappa, men's honorary professional fraternity for those who have made a significant contribution to education. He will shortly join the summer faculty of the Department of Education at the University of British Columbia, where he will give courses on advanced educational statistics and the administration of education.

Dr. Bailey's mother lives at 1275 Johnson Street, Victoria.

FLT.-LT. DOWIE TO TRAIN RAIDERS

WITH THE R.C.A.F., SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, (CP).—Operational flying is over for Flt.-Lt. Charles Stuart Dowie of Leader, Sask.—at least for a while—and he would like to pay tribute to ground crews.

With 203 operational hours behind him and flashes of bomb-blasted German targets etched in his memory, the 25-year-old dark-haired prairie man said "there hasn't been a single occasion in all those hours of 'ops' that I've had to turn back or cut short the trip due to mechanical trouble. The ground crews can't get too much credit."

Dowie is to become an instructor at an operational training unit, where he will impart battle knowledge learned in raids such as against Brest and those elusive Nazi battleships, Scharnhorst and Gneisenau.

Dowie's bomber attacked Brest five times while the warships were there, then blasted at them in the English Channel on their historic dash. On that occasion Dowie's bomber was shot up badly and he had to make a forced landing on return. He has returned to base at least a dozen other times with flak and bullet holes in his aircraft.

"But we've been almost unbelievably lucky," he said. "Never once touch wood—have I had a member of my crew hit, or suffered a casualty."

"Brest and the Channel chase were probably the hottest shows we were in. Flak was pretty heavy and our aircraft was bouncing around pretty badly."

Church Observes Anniversary

The 80th anniversary of St. Stephen's Church, Mount Newton, was celebrated with services of commemoration and thanksgiving conducted at the church Wednesday afternoon. The congregation included Lieut.-Governor W. C. Woodward and party.

Met at the church by Rev. W. N. Turner, rector of St. Stephen's, and church wardens Arthur Burr and Albert Spencer, the Lieutenant-Governor was escorted to his place in the church. Hymns were sung and the Lieutenant-Governor read the lesson. Rev. George Biddle, rector of St. John's church, delivered the sermon.

Bishop H. E. Sexton dedicated a memorial tablet given in memory of William and Margaret Thomson and other pioneers by the Saanich pioneers' society.

The offering at the service will be credited to "The Centenary Memorial Fund." Organist for the service was Mrs. J. S. A. Bastin, widow of the late vicar of South Saanich.

Floral decorations in the church were the work of Mrs. H. R. Gale and Mrs. R. Scott-Moncrieff. Mrs. H. S. Hughes and Mrs. J. C. Butterfield were responsible for the parish hall decorations.

After the service tea was served to the Lieut.-Governor and party, Bishop and Mrs. Sexton, early pioneers and others by the W.A. and the Saanich pioneers' society. The congregation enjoyed a basket picnic on the church grounds. Mrs. R. E. Nimmo presided at the tea table.

Guests at the service were members of the Saanich municipal council and school board, the Saanich pioneers' society and the British Columbia historical society.

Further anniversary services will be held at the church at 11.30 Sunday when Rev. Pike, rector of St. Luke's church, Cedar Hill, will preach.

Allow Icing Again On Bakers' Cakes

OTTAWA (CP).—Wartime Prices and Trade Board officials said today that under revised sugar rationing regulations, confining the industrial use of sugar to 70 per cent of the quantity used in 1941, bakers are permitted to use icing on their products provided they remain within the quota allowed them.

Under consolidated regulations for the industry the provision for forbidding bakers to make use of sugar for icing has been removed, officials said. But, if icing is to be used, it must be taken from the sugar available under the 70 per cent quota.

STUDENTS HEAR OF NETHERLANDS

Dr. B. H. Sajet, an escaped medical practitioner from Nazi-occupied Holland, held a Victoria High School audience breathless for an hour yesterday when he spoke of the faith and hope of a defeated people who have never ceased to fight.

Speaking for the cause of the Netherlands, he told how the Dutch had created a new order; had made social reforms for better living conditions; had broken down the slums and replaced them with modern buildings.

"Then came the Nazis with their 'New Order,'" he said. "We have lost our liberty; we are not allowed to speak freely; we cannot write, and we cannot listen to the Free Dutch broadcasts from London, but we do speak freely. We do write. And we do listen to the broadcasts from London."

He told how Dutch boys help write and deliver illicit news sheets—an offence punishable by death.

Describing the damage inflicted by the Germans on Rotterdam, he said: "Rotterdam is for us a symbol of our resistance and hatred against the Germans—and more so, against our own traitors and quislings. It is the symbol of our unity."

Part-Time Workers Vital as Commandos in Britain

LONDON (CP)—More women must work in this war is the word Labor Minister Bevin has for the women of Britain, nearly 8,000,000 of whom are registered for full-time war work with half of this number already called-up.

To bolster production the immediate emphasis now is on part-time workers and Mobile Employment Exchanges are being used to recruit women, a move which is still in the experimental stages.

So far mobile recruiting has been confined to Middlesex county, a highly-populated residential district with many local factories. Labor ministry officials say they consider the first response to the experiment gratifying to the extent that mobile employment exchanges may be sent through the length and breadth of the land.

During the first excursion of the first mobile unit 75 women registered within four hours and of these 44 were given immediate part-time jobs as machinists, assemblers, domestic workers in hospitals and canteens and in laundries.

The mobile employment exchange was conceived when the ministry of labor and national service felt there would be more volunteers for part-time endeavor if the employment exchanges went to women instead of waiting for women to come to the employment exchanges which in many cases are three or four miles from the women's homes.

The first mobile exchange is an old ambulance equipped with loud speakers. On drawing up in an area where women are shopping for their rations or on any of the jobs which take a housewife out of doors, a labor ministry official appeals to passersby to volunteer for part-time work and stresses the urgency of his case in these words: "Part-time women war workers are as important as commandos."

The women reached by the mobile exchange need only stop a few minutes to register and if immediate employment is wanted they are given a card of introduction to a local employer. Some authorities say, specify the type of work they would prefer or in which they are experienced. Then the exchange tries to find them such a job locally. A woman employment officer registers the women, the floor of the van being used as a table. She keeps a record of all vacancies in local factories.

Labor authorities report there is a great potential of women workers, the only bar to their employment being their family responsibilities. To overcome this hundreds of creches and day nurseries have been opened all over the country where working women can leave their children during the day.

The women volunteer for either the morning or afternoon shift, the hours varying in each factory but generally being from 8 to 12.20 for the morning trick and from 1 to 5.30 for afternoon labor.

This allows time for women to do their shopping and housework and for the few hours they are away from home most mothers can arrange for neighbors to look after their children should nursery facilities not be available.

Wages vary from the equivalent of $6.08 to $6.75 a week with an increase as the workers become more proficient. Already Britain has 10,000 women employed in part-time work.

By PETE SALLAWAY

GEORGE (PORKY) ANDREWS, B.Sc., Victoria's well-known basketball, track and field and softball star, returned to the city this week with his degree all spic and span after five years' attendance at the University of Oregon. Andrews spent a couple of days with his parents, then proceeded to Vancouver where he intends to apply for enlistment in the Royal Canadian Air Force. Porky wants to train as a pilot.

While at Oregon, Andrews engaged in track and field and basketball but it was at the latter sport that he gained fame and glory. His last two seasons the Victoria star captained the Varsity squad and earned his letters. Andrews was fortunate in that he made three jaunts across the continent with the Webbe and a trip to Honolulu two years ago. "Guess I got that Hawaii voyage in just time," he wisecracked. On the three visits to New York, to engage the crack teams from Long Island University, the Oregon boys suffered as many defeats, but extended the easterners into overtime on one occasion and on another, lost by one point. In Honolulu Andrews and his teammates copped four out of the five games played.

One of the highlights of Andrews' college basketball career was playing against the great Hank Luisetti on the Honolulu tour. The former Stanford University ace traveled to the islands with the Oregon club and played in all the games against them as an added attraction. "He failed to show much in the first four games but opened up the last one and looked real smart," Porky said. "However, I think Luisetti reached his peak during his college playing and the fact that he was attending and playing for a school meant an awful lot."

When asked about the various styles of basketball he ran up against during the eastern tour, Andrews stated the eastern clubs feature two-handed set shots, with the players seldom getting away one-handed attempts for the basket, while the midwestern squads use a combination of western and eastern styles. In his opinion the western high-scoring fast-breaking game is the most popular with the fans. "Spectators don't like to see a team pass the ball around in slow fashion."

Smart High Track Meet

Brentwood Triumphs

Amassing a total of 21 points against Oak Bay High School's 20½, Brentwood College track stars took top honors at the inter-high school track and field meet at Victoria High grounds Wednesday afternoon. Coming out on top of the meet, said to be one of the most competitive ever witnessed in the city, the victors were awarded the McLennan, McFeely and Prior track trophy by H. B. Whittier, president of the Y.M.C.A., which sponsored the affair.

University School took third place, totaling 18½ points. For Victoria High School, proud champion of past years, it was Waterloo with a capital W. They received no points, as was the case for Mt. View High, and Esquimalt High. Speed and smoothness were the theme of the meet, and the winners showed just that.

It was A. E. Gillespie who highlighted the victory of Brentwood College, bringing in three firsts for his team. He took honors in the 880 and 440-yard races, and the high jump. Making the 880 in 2:12, he also made the 440 in 55.3 seconds, and cleared the high leap at 5 feet 2 inches. The like number of firsts were also captured by B. Wilkinson of Oak Bay High.

NO RECORDS

There were no records broken at the meet, and only one was tied... that by R. Wilkinson in the 100-yard dash. The mixed day of shine and cloud saw mighty stiff competition.

Bringing excitement of the day to topnotch calibre, A. E. Gillespie, Brentwood, took first in the 440 after being in second place until within 10 yards of the tape. A sudden spurt of seemingly up-

They could get out on the floor and do the same thing themselves.

Andrews' description of the training schedule for the college basketballers was really interesting. The boys start working out for two hours every day soon as the fall term opens. All plays both in practices and games are charted by a student manager. At the next practice following a game the coach goes over the chart and shows a player where he made his mistakes. The charting includes a record of all shots, where they are taken from and what kind; passing, dribbling, intercepting, ball handling, whether a player is on the ball, etc. "If you make a mistake there is no chance to get away from it under this system."

We asked Andrews how long the average player is on the floor during a game. "Oh, about 35 minutes providing you are not having a bad night." The average college coach uses about eight men in a game. We also questioned Porky as to how clubs of the calibre of Dominos and top-ranking Vancouver squads would stack up against these Varsity outfits. "They wouldn't do so well and one thing is certain, every player would have to be in the pink of condition to make any kind of a showing."

Glancing over the latest edition of the batting and pitching averages for the Coast League ball clubs, one can easily understand just why the Los Angeles Angels are waiting along in first position. A trio of Angels sluggers hold down the first three positions in the batting averages with Johnny Moore heading the league with the fine mark of .363 followed by Barney Olsen (not the Arena president) with .352 and Eddie Mayo with .327. First sacker Waltkus of the Angels is not far behind his teammates with a healthy .312.

In comparison the first Seattle Rainier to show in the list is outfielder Bill Matheson with a mark of .309 followed by his outfield pal, Lynn King with .301. These are the only two Rainiers hitting above the charmed .300. In the pitching department it is a different story with the Rainiers having two of the leading hurlers in the league, Dick Barrett with a record of 11 and 2 and Hal Turpin with 8 and 2. But it goes to show pitchers cannot hold up a club. A championship team has to have power at the plate.

ending energy sent him forging ahead, and he took the race with two feet to his credit. He passed Ronald Dalziel in a cloud of steam. It was a cruel race. He made it in 55.3 seconds. Two all-girls events, the 100-yard dash, and a 440-yard relay, were won by Oak Bay High. No points were awarded as not all schools had girls competing. A 12-pound shot-put contest put A. Underbake, Brentwood, on top. Final number on the race program, a medley relay with four men to a team, was captured by University School.

The affair was under the direction of Archie McKinnon, physical director of the local "Y," with the assistance of the other personnel of the men's centre.

ANNUAL SPORTS AT ST. MARGARET'S

Before a large turnout of pupils, parents and friends the annual sports of St. Margaret's School were staged Wednesday.

The silver cup for the inter-house championship was won by Christian House with 59 points; Canmore was second with 38 points; Turgot third with 25 points. The whole house cup was won by Canmore; second, Turgot; third, Christian. In the special house relay race, Christian was first, Canmore second and Turgot third.

Joyce Lytton won the senior championship, with Joyce Cleirhue and Mary Tucker tied for the runner-up spot. The intermediate title went to Beryl Nation with Deirdre Bryn-Jones second, while Louise Roy lifted the junior crown with Mary Richardson and Catriona Gillespie tied for runner-up.

Major Harold Nation presented the prizes in the form of War Savings Stamps.

Postpone Softball

Tonight's scheduled senior A men's softball game between the Royal Canadian Navy and Victoria Longshoremen has been postponed, owing to the latter being unable to field a team.

Chuck Conacher Hospital Patient

(BY SCOTT YOUNG)

TORONTO (CP).—One of the better football stories is one about a large young fellow picked up for Ottawa by grid-enthusiast Eddie Emerson.

Bill (Ottawa Journal) Westwick writes that all this big fellow wanted as retainer was three meals a day.

Emerson turned up at the club's first workout to watch his protegee perform, and found him in a corner of the field with a mashie and a pile of golf balls, thoughtfully chipping them into a nearby canal. This struck Emerson as a refreshing approach to the game so he sauntered over and lobbed a few balls into the canal himself. Finally Emerson thought to ask where the balls came from. The lad pointed to Emerson's car, explained generally: "They were in a bag along with your clubs."

The clans gathered in Toronto and Ottawa earlier this week to fete Gunner Ted Reeve and Tony McCarthy, one a gifted writer and both big men in eastern football. Reeve is a member of the 30th Battery, Conn Smythe's outfit. McCarthy is a member of the Civilian Firefighting Corps.

Charlie Conacher has been in a Toronto hospital for weeks, and will be there weeks more. It's the old kidney trouble again—an illness that cut short the greatest part of his hockey career. Harry (Calgary Albertan) Scott relates that the nine-year-old gelding Kihapal follows his trainer, Joe Dapper, like a dog. Dapper trained the horse out of a bad shoulder injury, explains the attachment that way. Kihapal won't eat unless Dapper is present.

C.P.R. Tennis Club Play Set

Annual championships of the C.P.R. Tennis Club will open on June 13, with entries to close the day previous. The tournament will continue through to June 29, when the members of the Vancouver C.P.R. club will pay a visit for the first half of the annual interclub match for the Empire Trophy. The Victoria team will invade the mainland later in the season.

In the club tournament the champions will be on hand to defend their titles. Jack Wilkinson and Mrs. Dolly Martin are the present holders of the singles crowns.

Sunday the C.P.R. will oppose a side from the Royal Air Force in a friendly match. Members of the C.P.R. squad follow: Jack Wilkinson, Noel Gamlin, Roddy McInnes, Gordon Fields, Jimmy Collier, Sid Gaunt, Jack Moon and Ivan Temple. Play will start at 10.

Pigeon Racing

The Victoria and District Racing Pigeon Club held its fifth old bird race of the season over the weekend, from Spence's Bridge, an airline distance of 163 miles. Due to high variable winds and low-lying clouds the birds made slow time. There were 162 birds, representing 16 lofts, liberated. The velocities and positions follow:

	Yards Per Minute
A. Hardy	643.11
B. Bell	632.22
S. Eden	625.26
B. Woolley	621.87
D. Blackstock	620.69
W. McPherson	599.99
S. Knott	577.52
J. Camberg	576.25
Knoves Bros.	562.67
C. Borewit	517.70
A. Renfrew	353.80

S. Eden won the pool. The next race will be from Kamloops, an airline distance of 205 miles. Birds will be basketed Friday night at 7 at the club headquarters. At that time the clocks will be checked and set.

Lindsay Goes Distance

VANCOUVER (CP).—Lou Salica, world bantamweight boxing champion, won a close 10-round decision over Ken Lindsay of Vancouver Wednesday night, but the challenger had nothing to be ashamed of in the result. Lindsay weighed 121, Salica 119, for the non-title bout.

Lindsay, billed as the Canadian bantam champion, carried the fight to Salica all the way but the Brooklyn boxer's superior experience showed to advantage as he stemmed off the rushes with which Lindsay opened each round. Usually the round ended with Salica in full control.

From start to finish there was no coasting by either fighter. The Brooklyn boxer's rangy left was more than a match for Lindsay's left jab, but the Vancouver youngster gave a good account

Bonham Gets Too Good

Wins Eighth Straight

Ernie Bonham, the undefeated righthanded pitching star of the New York Yankees, is getting too good for his own good.

Jumbo won his eight straight game Wednesday, 4 to 1, at the expense of the Chicago White Sox. He kept eight hits scattered, walked only two, and would have had a shutout except for a homer by Joe Kuhel in the seventh.

This pitching almost certainly would have satisfied the supporters of any other hurler in the majors, but the onlookers at Yankee Stadium were quick to size it up as one of Bonham's poorest performances of the season.

In the first place it wasn't a shutout. The big fellow had administered four of these in his first seven starts and by the time he had laid six goose-eggs end to end Wednesday some of the boys figured he should have had another.

Besides, it was the first time this year he had allowed more than seven hits. And those two bases on balls, task. He had yielded only five passes in seven games previously, and two in one game surely was slipping.

SIX HIT JOB

The Philadelphia Athletics brought the Detroit Tigers to a sudden stop with a 5 to 2 decision on Jack Knott's six-hit hurling. The A's were held to seven safeties themselves, but nicked Hal White for three runs in the fifth inning to sew up the game.

The St. Louis Browns routed Sid Hudson with an eight-run assault in the second inning and went on to whip Washington, 9 to 5, dropping the Senators into the American League cellar. In the National League the Pittsburgh Pirates received a reprieve from the weather man providing time to recover from the 17 to 2 shellacking they received the day before from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Meanwhile the Boston Braves moved a game closer to the second-place Cardinals by capturing a 4 to 3 twilight struggle at St. Louis.

The Braves belted Murray Dickson out of the box in the first-inning with a three-run flurry sparked by Tommy Holmes' triple and Max West's two-run single. Frank (Rube) Melton pitched and battled the Phils to a 2 to 1, 10-inning triumph over the Cincinnati Reds in a night game. He spaced six hits and doubled home the winning run. Big Paul Derringer pitched five-hit ball, but his teammates committed four errors.

COAST LEAGUE

San Diego, the Coast League team overlooked by most experts at the opening of the baseball season, bobbed up in second place, a full game ahead of Sacramento after defeating Portland 3 to 2 in 11 innings Wednesday night.

The Solons helped the Padres into the runner-up spot behind Los Angeles by dropping a game to Seattle in the ninth inning when Rainier batsmen blasted Blix Donnelly for four hits and five runs to break at tie and win 6 to 1.

At San Diego, Padre manager, Cedric Durst said his club is prepared to shift from night to a twilight or day schedule if civilian defence officials rule that Lane Field lights violate coastal dim-out orders.

Dick Barrett, Seattle hurler, chalked up his 12th win of the season as he won a pitching bout from Blix Donnelly, Solon chucker, who tossed a two-hitter until he ran into grief in the ninth to wind up with six hits against him to five yielded by Barrett.

San Francisco Seals moved ahead of Oakland into the fourth-from-last-place spot by reason of a win over Hollywood, 7 to 2, combined with the Los Angeles defeat of the Oaks, 5 to 4.

Jokers-Tiremen Battle Tonight

There's going to be a rare old time at the Sports Centre tonight when Jokers take a pasting comparable with the 20 to 5 James Bay brand, according to Gus Munroe, alias Chief Gussie, one-man general staff of the Douglas Tire clan.

Beaten 7 to 5 by Jokers in their first game, this will be the second meeting of these two boxers this season. Hostilities open at 8:30 with a preliminary between Senators and James Bay midgets billed for 7.

With his palefaces going great guns and the Indians now finding the goal, Gus is sure of victory. He notes his team has lost by only one or two goals each game and figures it might just as well be reversed.

Jokers will have their strongest line-up on the floor. It should be a close game whichever way it goes.

Better Decision

NEW YORK (AP).—When Hervey Lascelles visited Germany in 1936 as a bantamweight boxer on the Canadian Olympic boxing team, he was eliminated in the first round by Ortiz of Mexico. The other night Hervey went back to Germany as pilot officer in the Royal Canadian Air Force. They say he got a better decision at Cologne.

SOFTBALL RESULTS

Palm Dairies and K.V.'s checked up C section softball victories Wednesday night at Central Park. The milkmen eked out a 7 to 5 win over St. Louis College, while K.V.'s beat New Method Laundry 3 to 10. Joe Bryant pitched for the dairy, striking out 13 and hitting a three-bagger in the last of the ninth to drive in the winning runs.

In the other free scoring game K.V.'s finally got the lead in the eighth and managed to hang on until the end.

Art Stevenson Enlists

WINNIPEG (CP).—Art Stevenson, 25, captain of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, Canadian football champions, enlisted in the Canadian Army Medical Corps here Wednesday as a private.

Stevenson, medical student at the University of Manitoba, recently began an internship here. He and 25 other students will be given indefinite leave until completion of their medical course, then go on active service as lieutenants or captains.

Minor Hockey Will Carry On

TULSA (AP).—The American Hockey Association will continue operations next season if no objections are raised by the United States and Canadian governments, the board of governors decided at the annual meeting Wednesday.

The association has teams at Dallas, Fort Worth, St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Omaha and Tulsa.

The board voted to ask the governments of the two countries that players not subject to military duty or work in war industries be made available for hockey. Members agreed, however, that it probably would be difficult to get players from Canada.

The schedule and other plans will be completed at the fall meeting, set for Sept. 11 and 12 at Dallas.

The player limit for each team was reduced from 13 to 11 and the number of games to be played by each team was increased from 50 to 54.

Small Field for Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK (AP).—The chances are there'll only be five or six horses going to the post in Saturday's 74th running of the Belmont Stakes, which should make it quite an exclusive taffy-pull for Alsab and Shut Out.

For, while the other three or four will be shooting at that more-than-$50,000 purse, too, they haven't much of a chance, on form, with Al Sabath's Chicago champ and the son of Equipoise, who won the Kentucky Derby for Mrs. Payne Whitney.

The others probably will include Walter Chrysler's Ramblers, up to now one of the bigger "busts" among the three-year-olds this spring; Lochinvar, a husky youngster from the barn of James Roebeling of Trenton, N.J., whose chief claim to fame is that he wound up second to Alsab in the Withers Mile, a couple of weeks ago; H. L. Lunker's Half Crown, an invader from England, and possibly William Ziegler Jr.'s Wait a Bit, who has done some stretch running occasionally this spring.

TEN TO ACE WINS

TORONTO (CP).—Harry Hiddings' Ten To Ace, winner of the King's Plate, Wednesday, won the $2,500 added Prince of Wales Plate at Thorncliffe Park.

Two lengths in front of Depressor, with Cossack Post in third place another five lengths behind, the wonder colt of the eastern tracks won handily carrying top weight of 126 pounds.

He returned only $2.05 and $2.20 to give place bettors, for once, a larger profit than those who played him to win. With five horses in the field, show bets were out.

LAWN BOWLING

Third game in the women's Butchart Cup competition was held on the greens of the Canadian Pacific Club. Good weather and the fine condition of the green made playing conditions ideal. The scores were even and the results were not decided till the play of the last bowl.

Pitzer-Nex Nosed Out In Thriller

Victoria Machinery Depot are still undefeated top dogs in the senior ball league, but they got the scare of their lives Wednesday night, when a fighting Pitzer and Nex club carried them into the last of the ninth to score the winning run, in a thrilling 4 to 3 triumph.

It was one of those finishes one reads about but seldom sees. Pitzer and Nex had come from behind to push a lone run across the platter in their half of the ninth inning to tie the game after being on the short end from the fifth frame.

V.M.D. took their turn in the ninth with the top end of the batting order at the plate. Reg Patterson caught an inside ball for a two-base line knock to left centre. Catcher Laurel Harney was purposely walked on four pitched balls. Ralph Morgan was sent in to pinch-hit for Williams and lifted a high fly into right field, that Ritchie Nicol got under, but couldn't hold, and Patterson raced home with the winning run.

Pitzer and Nex threw in three pinch hitters in the ninth in their desperate attempts to pull the game out of the fire and succeeded in tying it up. Garnet batting for Harper walked, was sacrificed to second by Bert Nex, another pinch hitter, and scored on Musgrave's clean single to right field. The crowd, strictly pro-Pitzer and Nex, went wild. But their spirits were quickly dashed when V.M.D. put over the clincher a few minutes later.

FINCHING DUEL

Cy Shillite, V.M.D., and Musgrave locked up in a great pitching duel all the way. The former held Pitzer and Nex to four scattered hits while he struck out five. Musgrave, although touched for 10 hits was effective in the pinches and held the powerful shilyarders scoreless. In six of the nine innings, Musgrave also did his share at the plate, batting in two of his team's runs as he got a like number of hits in four trips to the rubber. Musgrave shared batting honors with shortstop Charley Strouger of the V.M.D.

Both clubs were anxious to win with the result their play seemed to suffer under the strain. Total of eight

ASKS INFORMATION ON ALASKA RAIDS

SEATTLE (AP).—Senator Mon C. Wallgren, Democrat, Washington State, who was planning on a trip to Dutch Harbor as a member of the Senate's Truman investigating committee, but who is still here, said that "What I would like to know and what people have a right to know is how we met this attack" by Japanese aircraft on the Alaskan naval station.

"Just what defence strength do we have there that they could return six hours after dropping their first bombs?

"We're not surprised they made the attempt. But any time they come over American soil we ought to make it so tough for them that they won't be back in a few hours."

Wallgren declared such information now would convey no military secret to the enemy.

"After the attack of Wednesday," he continued, "the first time enemy planes have ever dropped bombs on this continent, the Japs have a pretty good idea of what defences we have there."

In the east, the Washington senator predicted, they will be saying that the Japanese attack on Dutch Harbor is only a face-saving move on the part of Japan, a token bombing.

"It's a lot more than that," he asserted. "We've got a war out here and this is the opening foray. I'm mighty concerned too what Canada's defences are on the Pacific coast."

Wallgren originally had planned to leave last Monday for an inspection tour of the Alaskan bases, but had postponed the trip because of other business.

Hangman Heydrich Dies of Wounds

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts, AP).—Reinhard Heydrich, 38, "protector" of Bohemia and Moravia, died in Prague this morning of wounds suffered in an attempt on his life May 27, it was announced officially today.

The assassination of the man known among scores of millions of Europe's oppressed peoples as "Der Henker"—"the hangman"—is expected to bring about the shooting of hundreds of hostages—In addition to the 163 already slain in swift reprisals, Czech circles in London asserted.

London sources declared Heydrich recently was appointed Gestapo chief for occupied Europe and it was pointed out ironically that the "butcher of Moravia" died in virtually the same manner as hundreds of hostages he had ordered shot in France, Holland, Belgium, Norway, Poland and other countries during his hated career.

Instead of using harsh purgatives, why not take the "better way" to correct the cause of the common type of constipation due to lack of the right kind of "bulk" in the diet? KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, a crisp, crunchy cereal, supplies the necessary "bulk"... tastes grand with sugar and cream or in hot puffs.

Eat ALL-BRAN every day and drink plenty of water. But, remember, ALL-BRAN doesn't work like purgatives. It takes time. Get ALL-BRAN at your grocer's, in two convenient sizes; or in individual serving packages at restaurants. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

"Now We Must All Buy MORE War Savings Certificates"

That was the sobriquet applied to Heydrich by Europe's oppressed millions.

Long before assassins' bullets cut Heydrich down Britain had his number.

His was the first name on the list of Germans announced in London Oct. 7, 1941, for probable post-war punishment as a result of murder and oppression in German occupied countries.

Sharing this list with Heydrich were Josef Terboven, German commissioner for Norway; Gen. Alexander von Falkenhausen, German commander for Norway and G. Otto von Stuepnagel, German commander for France.

An early convert to Hitlerism, Heydrich was little known to the world generally until the fall of 1941, when Hitler sent him to Prague to quell a rising tide of Czech unrest. There he succeeded Baron Konstantin von Neurath as "protector" of Bohemia and Moravia.

What followed constitutes a terrible page in the history of freedom-loving Czechs. Hundreds were summarily executed and the Germans announced order had been restored. As a reward, Heydrich was raised to the rank of general in the security police. But the fires of revolt still flared in the protectorate and more executions followed. In one sweeping order 90,000 Jews were uprooted and herded into a ghetto at Terezin, Bohemia.

Even if the world in general hadn't heard of Heydrich much before 1941, Europe's overrun countries had.

A.R.P. in Schools

5,000 Take Part
In Mass Test

The entire population of 16 city schools took part Wednesday afternoon in their first mass A.R.P. evacuation. School and A.R.P. authorities reported the test successful.

In response to imminent danger signals sounded at 2 in the afternoon, 5,000 school children quickly and orderly filed out of their school buildings, dispersed in small groups supervised by their teachers and took shelter in tall grass and bushes in vacant areas around the school grounds. The evacuation was completed within three minutes.

The children put on realistic performances as "casualties." Victoria Fire Department equipment and personnel from Yates Street Hall attended at the rescue of "trapped" children at Central Junior High School. Senior students served as runners and stretcher bearers. "Casualties" were "treated" at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Skeleton A.R.P. staffs manned the first aid posts at Sir James Douglas, George Jay and Quadra Street schools.

H. L. Campbell, municipal school inspector, said the practice, a thorough, full-scale half-hour test, was very satisfactory. He praised the work of teacher first aid staffs.

Hospital authorities reported the first aid work had been done in a satisfactory manner.

Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, described the results of the test as "wonderful." He had special praise for the first aid staffs.

Wanda Hawley Dies

UTICA, N.Y. (AP).—Mrs. C. Fulcher, 52, who, as Wanda Hawley, appeared in 370 productions during a 15-year career in silent films, died Wednesday night of pneumonia. She also was on the New York stage for a time. In recent years she had done portrait painting and written children's stories.

Six motorists were fined $2.50 each in police court today when convicted of contravening parking by-laws. One was fined $5 for failing to stop at a red light.

Enters Priesthood

Rev. Arthur E. Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Leonard, 1444 Begbie Street, will be ordained to the priesthood at St. Andrew's Cathedral at 11 Sunday morning. Bishop J. C. Cody will officiate and Rev. James Farrell, C.S.S.R., of Vancouver, former classmate of Father Leonard, will preach at the service.

A native of Victoria, Father Leonard, who attended St. Louis College, studied philosophy and theology at St. Alphonsus' Seminary, Woodstock, Ont., and at St. Peter's Seminary, London, Ont. He will be the first Victorian ordained for this diocese in 30 years.

A reception for Father Leonard will be held at Loretto Hall from 4 to 6 Sunday afternoon. After he has been ordained, Father Leonard will be attached to the staff of St. Andrew's Cathedral.

His brother, Pre. Louis B. Leonard, is serving with the 2nd Battalion, Canadian Scottish. His sister, Miss Joan Leonard, recently graduated from St. Ann's Academy.

Suffering from a fractured collar bone, result of an accident at 4.45 Wednesday afternoon, the condition of Miss Jeanne Stewart, now in St. Joseph's Hospital, was described as fairly good today. Miss Stewart, who lives at 784 Gorge-Road West, and is 17 years old, was riding her bicycle south on that road, near Colquitz Avenue, when she collided with a car driven north on Gorge Road by Mrs. Leo Loy, 1625 Government Street.

May Protest Rise
In Beef Prices

Grade A beef prices were up as much as 5 cents a pound in Victoria retail meat stores today but it appeared the price increase would not be made without protest. The price increase was caused by a readjustment of the wholesale beef ceiling last week by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

While restaurant owners in Victoria have taken no formal action, the Vancouver Restaurant Owners' Association today sent telegrams to James Stewart, Wartime Prices and Trade Board director of services, and various members of Parliament protesting the 5-cent increase.

As yet no action has been taken by women's organization but a protest may be forthcoming.

No maximum retail price has been set by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board but retailers are only permitted to raise fresh beef prices so the increase on all cut and portions of the whole carcass does not exceed the mark-up established by the board. The board may at any time set maximum mark-up prices for retailers.

With the wholesale beef prices up 3 cents, the retail price, after allowing for shrinkage and waste, has been raised an average of 5 cents.

Under the new order copies of all invoices covering shipments of beef in any form must be kept by packers and wholesalers for 60 days. All buyers of beef from packers or wholesalers must retain the original invoices for 60 days.

Prices and mark-ups of retailers are subject to examination periodically by price board representatives, who may require any retailer to submit his transaction to a check by the use of a standard cutting test.

Retailers who kill their own cattle are governed by the maximum wholesale prices in the zones in which they operate. For remote districts not included in the 15 defined zones, the maximum wholesale price may be the maximum price at shipping point plus transportation charges.

McKIM'S DIRECTORY
NOW OFF PRESS

Canada has three more publications than it had at this time last year, though the dailies have decreased by five and the weeklies by 31, the losses being compensated by 20 new monthlies and 23 new miscellaneous publications.

These figures are from the 35th edition of McKim's Directory of Canadian Publications, just issued. Chinese publications lead, among the dailies, in the foreign language field of 66 publications in 16 languages; the Chinese have four dailies, two in Toronto and two in British Columbia. Disappearance of the two Japanese dailies leaves the Japanese with only one publication, a weekly.

The directory, comprising 483 pages, includes extensive data on markets throughout Canada. "Since the war began, advertising has been used more extensively than ever before in history to further the mobilization of nations at war," says C. T. Pearce, president of A. McKim, Limited, in his foreword. "Advertising which takes the long view has always been the most effective advertising. Today the view must be still further lengthened. Those who, with their eyes on the post-war world, take the necessary steps to maintain and increase the good will created by consistent advertising will find themselves in the best position to cope with circumstances when peace comes."

Victoria's Joan Kennedy
Sets New York Agaze

NEW YORK — If the people of the United States are wondering what their new women's army will be like they can learn a thing or two from Major Joan Kennedy of Victoria, B.C., officer administering the Canadian Women's Army Corps, writes Adelaide Kerr, feature writer for the Associated Press.

Under the heading, "Here's How Jenny Gets Her Gun," the Associated Press writer says:

Major Joan Kennedy made a recent visit to New York. When she and her staff assistant, Capt. Phyllis Lee-Wright, passed through Grand Central Station they caused more craning of necks than a visiting movie queen. Every passing eye took in their natty, brass-buttoned, khaki-hued uniforms.

What Major Kennedy said was of great interest too—especially to women who may soon be in army uniform themselves.

GOOD SOLDIERS

"Women have adapted themselves splendidly to military procedure and army life," she told me. "They get on well with the men. And the men have welcomed them, for they are glad to be freed of such jobs as cooking and clerking and get out on active service."

Then she gave me a graphic picture of Canadian women's army life as her corps knows it. The one-time stenographers, waitresses, lawyers, and dietitians begin their recruit service with a 30-day training in squad drill, map reading, first aid, protection against gas, physical training, military procedure and army discipline and law.

That finished, they are given any special training required for their jobs, and then stationed at any one of 200 army posts or training centres. They do stenographic work, cook in commissaries, wait table in mess hall, care for stores of uniforms and ammunition, drive staff cars and light trucks. They draw two-thirds of a soldier's pay and most of them live in army barracks. They are up at 6.15 reveille.

Officers may doft uniforms and don frills for an evening engagement, if they wish. But not the rank and file. When they have a date with the boy friend, they go in uniform. Officers can wear silk stockings, too, but the ranks get there in lisle.

TILT OF THE CAP

For a time Women's Army Corps caps were a matter of some concern. Some of the women wore them tilted at too exaggerated an angle. But now the caps are regulated to a tilt of 15 degrees to the right. The women are allowed a light make-up and may dress their hair as they please, provided the coiffure is neat and clears the collar. But colored nail polish and jewelry—except a watch and wedding ring—are taboo.

Major Kennedy, 38, blue-eyed and English-born, came to Canada with her family in 1911. They returned to England during the last war and then came back to Victoria, British Columbia. The girl who was to head Canada's first women's army took a business course, held a secretarial job for several years, and in 1929 married Norman R. Kennedy, a Victoria engineer.

Major Kennedy says a lot of the members of her corps are married, too.

$10 for Assault

Convicted of assaulting a Chinaman, Eng Soo, May 29, James Barnswell was fined $10 in police court today.

Soo alleged Barnswell struck him over the head with an iron rod, causing a gash and bleeding. He said that he was delivering a load of wood into a lot at Figgard and Store Streets when Barnswell told him he could not leave the wood there.

Barnswell corroborated this, saying the Chinese flew into a rage, picking up a three-foot iron rod and striking him across the leg with it. He said he wrested it away from Soo and struck him over the head in self-defence.

Upon passing judgment, Magistrate Henry Hall said he considered Barnswell's action more than self-defence.

Struck 2 Women

William Sneddon, charged with assaulting Mrs. M. Heater and Mrs. Eliza Restall, was found guilty on both charges, in police court today, and remanded until Friday for sentence. Mrs. Heater testified Sneddon was sitting on the stone wall bounding her front yard, remaining there after she had told him to get off. She said she asked him three times and then turned the garden hose on him.

Mrs. Heater then said Sneddon came into her yard, turning the hose on her after gaining possession of it. She said he punched her in the face, blacking both her eyes and causing bruises to the jaw and forehead.

When she told him she would get the police, Mrs. Heater said, he came back and punched her some more.

Mrs. Restall, a next door neighbor on Blanshard Street, said she came to the aid of Mrs. Heater, and while trying to help her was struck in the face by Sneddon, making her nose bleed.

Celebrated Artist
To Be Seen at Work

Scenic beauties of western Canada seen through the eyes of the celebrated Canadian artist, A. Y. Jackson, and through the lens of the modern color-camera, will be shown under the joint sponsorship of the Island Arts and Crafts Society and the Victoria Soroptimist Club at the Y.W.C.A. June 10 at 8.15 p.m. The Jackson pictures are produced as a sound film with commentaries by the artist himself, who will be shown at work at his canvas in some of the beauty spots of the west. This film was recently shown for the Authors' Association, members of which were most enthusiastic. It will be returned to Vancouver immediately after its appearance Wednesday. The natural color film of the Rockies has been lent by the provincial government. Mr. John Kyle, president of the Island Arts and Crafts Society, will preside. Preceding the showing of the pictures the Soroptimist Club members will meet for supper at the Y.W.C.A., this taking the place of the regular June social gathering.

Sub Takes Toll
Of Jap Vessels
Off Australia

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia (CP)—An Allied submarine sank an armed transport of 6,000 tons "with probable loss of all troops," sent two heavily loaded supply ships to the bottom and damaged a third, a headquarters communique announced today.

The ships sunk totaled 22,000 tons, the announcement said. It estimated the Japanese might have lost 12,000 troops. The communique did not specify the time covered by the operations, but said the sinkings were scored in a raid on enemy shipping lanes.

Earlier, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters announced Japanese submarines had sunk one ship off the west coast of Australia, and Prime Minister John Curtin said at Canberra that four of four Japanese submarines which entered Sydney harbor last Sunday were sunk before they could attack.

Mr. Curtin told Parliament the fourth submarine, alone able to fire its torpedoes, also was sunk. Headquarters made two announcements concerning the Allied submarine.

The first, without giving any results, merely recorded that attacks were made on two small cargo vessels 35 miles east of Sydney and another ship 225 miles south of there.

The second bulletin said further information indicated one of the ships was sunk, but the others escaped.

The attack marked the second submarine operations in the Sydney region this week, pygmy submarines having been launched against Sydney harbor itself last Sunday. One was sunk by gunfire and two by depth charges, while the only Australian loss was a vessel used as a naval depot ship.

Today's regular headquarters communique reported only one development in the air war, an Allied air force attack on Rabaul, northeast New Britain, which caused large fires in the wharf and military camp area.

New Companies

New incorporations listed by the B.C. registrar of companies for the week ending today included: Vacuum Wool Limited, Ladysmith, $100,000; Parkville Logging Co. Ltd., Parkville, $20,000; Rover Creek Mining Co. Ltd. (N.P.L.), Nelson, $10,000; Battle and Houghland Ltd., Vancouver, $25,000; Underwood Bakery Co. Ltd., Wells, $10,000; Westminster Sheet Metal Works Ltd., New Westminster, $10,000; British Columbia Steamships Ltd., Vancouver, $50,000; Nameby Ltd., Vancouver, $10,000; and Workcombe Island Co. Ltd., c/o C. F. Campbell, Hanesy, $10,000.

One extra-provincial company, Ainsworth Mines Ltd., of Toronto and Ainsworth, B.C., was listed.

Alert Order
To Victoria A.R.P.

Special A.R.P. precautions have been taken in Victoria since the Japanese attacked Dutch Harbor, Alaska. Wednesday night the coast defence area observed a radio blackout by order of Western Air Command of the R.C.A.F. A.R.P. wardens were ordered on the alert.

Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, ordered city A.R.P. wardens to stand by their telephones so they could be ordered into action at short notice.

Inspector S. F. M. Moodie of the provincial protection committee, announced in Vancouver, "that in view of the unsettled conditions in the Pacific, while there is no cause for alarm, we have redoubled our ordinary precautions."

DOUBLE STAFFS

The statement which came some hours after the second Japanese attack on Dutch Harbor, was coupled with the announcement that "we have doubled our staffs."

The radio blackout was effective in the "defence area" which includes the whole coastal area west of the crest of the Cascades, north from the international boundary to Prince Rupert.

Should a blackout be ordered, Inspector Bishop said, it will be by use of the siren system which is used for no other purpose but to announce actual air attacks or threats of attack. He said some citizens believed the siren system was used during practices. This is not so.

A precautionary blackout, which means unidentified aircraft have been sighted in the area, will be announced by a steady blast of 5 minutes' duration on the siren system. Citizens must blackout their lights and if driving in cars, put masks on all lights and proceed at only 15 miles an hour.

An imminent danger blackout, which means enemy aircraft are over the city, will be announced by the wailing note on the sirens. Citizens should immediately blackout all lights, and retire to their basements as attack is expected. Motorists must pull to the curb, turn out their car lights. Pedestrians, who are permitted on the streets, during a precautionary blackout, must take shelter during an imminent danger blackout.

Match Sale Nets
$206 for Scottish

Success with money-raising schemes was reported at a meeting of the W.A. to the Canadian Scottish Regiment, Wednesday, at Government House, the president, Mrs. N. Van der Vliet, in the chair.

Mrs. J. M. Rockingham reported that the sale of matches in May had netted $206, and Mrs. W. Russell and Mrs. R. D. Harvey, conveners of the imaginary home-cooking sale in aid of the A.R.P. funds, the money to be used to purchase materials for the making of triangular and roller bandages for A.R.P. use.

Other activities were represented in the report by Mrs. Stuart Robertson that 116 woolen articles had been turned in during May, and 80 articles were on hand, and the report of Mrs. J. R. Kingham that 63 skull caps have been sent to the 2nd Battalion, and a parcel of 271 woolens were ready for the 1st Battalion. Mrs. S. J. McDonald reported the sewing committee was making blankets, and Mrs. W. Parker has undertaken 50 jerseys for the 1st Battalion.

A request was made by Ms. Radcliffe for costume jewelry, toys and books for the Christmas tree for children. Mrs. W. Parker offered to convene a corner for the P.C.C.I. auxiliary last day on July 11. Mrs. Junget asked for volunteers to make beds at the Salvation Army Canteen. Members were asked to collect used schoolbooks for the regimental families. Mrs. R. Lindrum and Mrs. A. Plows, Beacon 1695, will collect them.

A serious case of illness was reported from Vancouver and the auxiliary will give assistance immediately, further help to be given later. Mrs. Horne, for hospital visiting, reported four patients and comfort boxes and cigarettes distributed. Mrs. W. G. Talbot reported one new active member and two new associate members.

Thomas L. White was fined $25 and $2.50 costs in Provincial Court Wednesday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving, on the Island Highway May 18.

Rental control in Victoria will be discussed at the meeting of the Real Estate Board Friday at Spencer's at 12.30. Other items of interest to the real estate business, will be discussed.

Drug Trial
Starts Today

Trial of Albert McCorish, charged May 25 with being in illegal possession of drugs, started in police court today. The case was remanded until June 9 by Magistrate Henry Hall to enable police to have a tube of morphine and atropine analyzed. Norman Dye, in court on the same charge, pleaded guilty May 25 and today received a further remand for sentence.

On a charge of breaking and entering and stealing from the office of Dr. R. D. Naismith, Campbell Building, the pair were also remanded to June 9.

Detective David Donaldson of the city force said he went to the Hillside Auto Court, May 25, with Detective Henry Jarvis, and going in, found McCorish and Dye in a cabin there. In the bedroom, he said, they found a tube of morphine and atropine, a bottle containing a 4 per cent solution of cocaine hydrochloride, and two hypodermic needles.

Detective Jarvis corroborated this evidence, adding that he found a blood-stained handkerchief in the cabin occupied by the two men, and another hypodermic needle. The next day, he said, he returned and was given another needle, found by the manager of the court, Fred Slocum.

Constable William Elliott, who was in the back of the patrol wagon when McCorish and Dye were brought to the station, said he saw a black object in McCorish's hand as he got into the wagon. At the station, Elliott said, he looked under the cushions in the back of the truck and found more drugs secreted opposite to where McCorish was sitting.

Transcript Delaying
Police Stores Report

Preparation of his report to the Attorney-General on the inquiry, under the Departmental Inquiries Act, into quartermaster stores, B.C. Provincial Police, will not start for some days yet, W. H. M. Haldane, commissioner, said today.

Up to Wednesday only half the transcript, which includes eight volumes of approximately 300 pages each, had been received by him. Today he had an additional 600 pages before him, but lacked between 600 and 700 to complete the transcript.

Until that is received, he said, he could not start to draft the report which, he indicated, would require considerable time.

A meeting of Ward Four Provincial Conservative Association will be held in the Conservative rooms tomorrow night at 8 for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing term.

Coal Rationing For Canada-U.S.

TORONTO (CP)—Coal may be rationed both in Canada and the United States this winter, J. McG. Stewart, federal coal administrator for Canada, told the convention of the Canadian Retail Coal Association here.

"If rationing of coal goes into effect in the United States as a result of transportation conditions, it will surely be rationed here, almost as a certainty," Mr. Stewart said. "We have been trying to arouse the public and persuade them to get in their fuel supply early."

The announcement came after his office had prepared and presented to the convention a credit plan by which banks have agreed to finance the summer purchase of winter coal needs, up to $250, for customers any accredited coal company considers a good risk.

In an interview later, Mr. Stewart said regarding rationing: "We are praying that rationing will not be necessary, but we fear that it will be. We are 60 per cent dependent on the United States for our coal supplies and if coal is rationed there it will be absolutely necessary to ration it here."

"Summer traffic on railroads always is less than winter traffic and during the winter there will be even heavier demands on transportation facilities. Sept. 1 or possibly Sept. 15 is our deadline for coal transportation because then there will be the wheat harvest to transport as well as war materials."

GLAMOUR STAR IN CADET PICTURE

Fun and laughter and hilarious action feature "Father Takes a Wife," the RKO Radio offering which opened today at the Cadet Theatre, to bring back the screen's most glamorous star, Gloria Swanson, in a gay triumph of comedy.

Sharing stellar honors with Adolphe Menjou, Miss Swanson enacts the colorful part of an imperial stage star who marries a shipping magnate, and thereby precipitates a lengthy and side-splitting series of plot complications.

For not only do the two principals quarrel frequently, before and after matrimony, but the magnate has a staid married son, Junior, who thinks the whole thing is disgraceful, though for the sake of the family reputation he does his best to get his father married and started off on his honeymoon.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Bob Hope pictures are always events, but the new Paramount comedy chase, "My Favorite Blonde," the new arrival at the Capitol Theatre, is even more than that. It's just about as close to being a laugh riot as it's possible for a film to be.

Hope's co-star is blonde, beautiful Madeleine Carroll, who proves herself a superlative comedienne. Bob sails his gags across and Madeleine bats them back with a speed that makes the audience limp. Laugh piles on laugh, and thrill on thrill without pause in this latest, fastest and funniest of the Hope pictures.

BETTE DAVIS STARS IN ATLAS PICTURE

It is the unlikely people of the world who are the most interesting subjects to portray, in the opinion of Bette Davis.

"Unfortunately, the ordinary, plain, every-day folk are not likely to have a lot of dramatic happenings in their lives," says the star.

"Then, too, the role of an unlikely—even hateful—person presents problems that are fun to solve."

Miss Davis speaks with plenty of authority on this subject, for she is now starring in the Samuel Goldwyn production of "The Little Foxes." And, as Regina Giddens, she portrays an entirely unsympathetic character, a woman of middle age, whose sole ambition is to acquire wealth. To achieve her home, her husband and her daughter's future.

Now being shown at the Atlas Theatre.

STORY OF AIRMEN SHOWING AT YORK

The Alhambra Airport in California has been converted into an R.A.F. base somewhere near London.

Because of its surrounding terrain, Warner Bros. selected this location for exterior scenes in "International Squadron," now being shown at the York Theatre, which is dedicated to the international members of the R.A.F.

Normal activity of the airport is the assembling of planes which are sent to Canada. Warner Bros. sent 250 workers to take charge of converting the quiet field into a base for military operations.

Twenty planes, which are of the same appearance as the famous British Spitfires, underwent the paint treatment and with regulation camouflage stood like noble knights waiting to perform heroic deeds. Seven bombers had been camouflaged to duplicate the Hudson bombers that have successfully attacked Berlin.

Romantic Feature Coming to Dominion

When a heroic young French girl is singled out by destiny to emulate her patron saint, Joan of Arc, by becoming a martyr in the turbulent tragedy of captive France, romance and adventure begin to mount in the widely heralded "Joan of Paris." Coming to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow.

Michele Morgan, brilliant French screen star, and Paul Henreid, who scored outstandingly in "Night Train," make their American film debut as a romantic team in this vivid RKO Radio offering.

Cast in the title role, Miss Morgan plays a beautiful barmaid in Nazi-occupied Paris, who falls in love with a Free French flier commanding an R.A.F. squadron.

"Mister V" Held at Plaza-Oak Bay

"Mr. V," the picture starring Leslie Howard, now showing at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres, is a picture that differs from others of its type. It is anti-Nazi—its very plot and substance are dependent on that fact. But in addition, according to Howard, it was designed as entertainment rather than a preachment dressed flimsily in the garments of a motion picture.

Laughs and Thrills in Rio Picture

Michael Shayne's hilarious and exciting efforts to discover a killer and get married at the same time were greeted with applause and laughter at the Rio Theatre, where the newest adventure of 20th Century-Fox's wisecracking detective, "Dressed to Kill," opened today.

Lloyd Nolan, as Shayne, gives his finest performance to date as the detective who tracks down murderers while he exchanges wisecracks with his bride-to-be, blonde Mary Beth Hughes, and a slow-witted inspector of detectives.

Making the final arrangements for his wedding, Shayne is interrupted by a scream. Rushing into a room, he finds two murdered persons.

Our Troops Toughest

Victoria Boys Overseas
In Hard Manoeuvres

By ROSS MUNRO
SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (CP) — The commandos may think they're the hardest troops in Britain, but the regular infantrymen of the Canadian Scottish from Victoria take second place to no one when it comes to really tough workouts.

The Victoria battalion has been on more than a dozen big exercises in the past few months — practically constant manoeuvres over the Canadian area — and on one inter-divisional scheme marched 106 miles in four days with full equipment.

(Lt. Col. J. L. Kingham, who commanded the battalion from its departure for overseas until a week or so ago arrived back in Victoria Wednesday for 14 days' leave at home before taking on a new appointment in Canada, said in an interview the Victoria troops were happy in their work and a credit to the city.)

One day the Scottish marched 26 miles with only a few stops, made a river crossing and went through a sham attack against another Canadian battalion along a 2,000-yard front.

More recently they took part in their largest manoeuvre when a Canadian Corps opposed a British Corps in a two-week "battle." But it was a cinch most of the time for the majority of marches were only 10 or 15 miles at a crack.

CHIPS OF OLD BLOCK

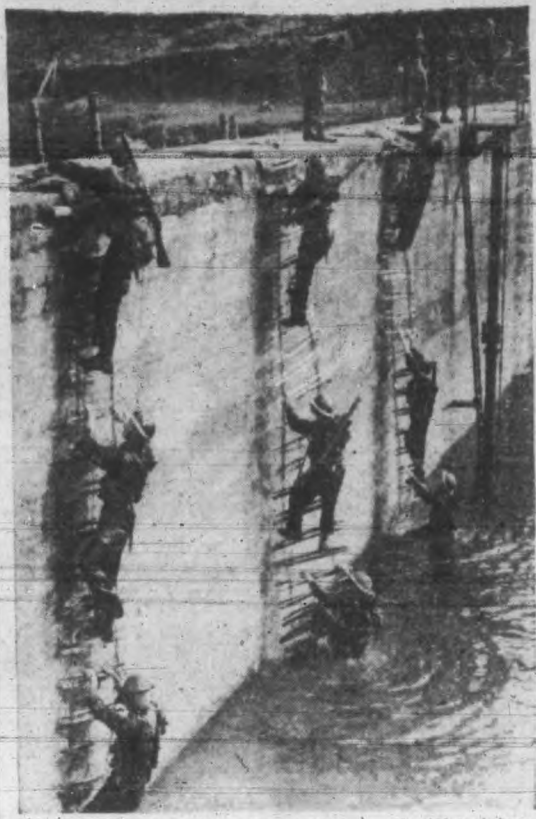

They are the stuff of the 16th battalion of the first Great War, these soldiers of the Scottish who perpetuate that old tradition and wear an oak leaf on their regimental shoulder flashes commemorating the 16th's great victory at Kitchener Wood in 1915.

The battalion now has a new lieutenant-colonel from Duncan, B.C., and during the inter-corps manoeuvre Maj. D. C. Stephenson of Nanaimo, B.C., was second-in-command.

Company commanders are Capt. Lou Rounding and Lieut. W. J. Mosedale, both of Victoria; Capt. A. H. Plows and Capt. R. M. Lendrum, both of Duncan, and Lieut. H. L. Glendinning, who left a Sumatra rubber plantation and joined up in Victoria. Lieut. J. D. M. Gillan of Victoria is adjutant.

PERFECT CONCEALMENT

This time the unit passed through entirely new country, making all moves after dark and using a minimum of transport. The troops set up camps night after night in the dark, not showing a single light, yet doing it so skillfully that when dawn came soldiers, trucks and equipment were perfectly concealed under trees or camouflage, safe from aerial reconnaissance.

Canadian Scottish undergo this type of stiff training.

Best camp of the Scottish was on an estate and the battalion moved into groves of trees and parkland. Like men who work a night shift, they slept in the morning.

Time tables for meals were upside down. In mid-afternoon Q.M.S. Jack Grimmond of Victoria was at "C" company's mobile cookhouse, all carried in a large truck.

HAM SERVED.

Cpl. Len Wagstaff of Victoria, who ran a lunch room in his home town and also made quite a name for himself as a dancer, cut up appetizing slices of ham as he prepared for the next meal.

In the group playing a casual outdoor card game were Sgt. J. A. Croft of Vancouver, a platoon commander; Pte. J. W. Sampson of Cumberland, B.C., a coal miner; Pte. Bill Green of Vancouver, a gold miner; Pte. Tommy Plamer of Peace River, Alta., and Pte. Stan Baldwin of Princeton, B.C., both farmers and loggers. Pte. Frank Barton hailed from Kelowna, B.C., and Pte. John Kutcher was from Vernon, B.C.

There was even a nautical touch in that camp. Three soldiers slung blankets in hammock style between trees. "We learned it coming over on the troopship," said L. Cpl. A. H. Vose of Alberni, B.C., as he crawled into his swilling bed.

Pte. L. D. George Graham of Vernon was another hammock sleeper. A few hundred yards away the signals section was setting up its field wireless under directions of Lieut. Peter Ramsay of Alberni, the signals officer. Sgt. A. G. Grant of Courtenay, B.C., commanded the Bren carrier platoon hidden in a near-by woods and Sgt. H. M. Butt of Victoria commanded the mortar platoon.

The regimental sergeant-major was J. Stothard, former physical training instructor at Shawnigan Lake Boys' School in British Columbia. He served at one time with the Manchester regiment in the British army.

Shipyard Vote In

VANCOUVER (CP) — Balloting by members of the Boilermakers' and Iron Shipbuilders' Union on the continuous work week which has been introduced in west coast shipyards is expected today and may be announced tonight.

About half the shipyard workers in Vancouver belong to the union. Voting was to have been completed yesterday, but many have still to mark their ballots. There was no indication how the vote was going. But many union members predicted the plan would be rejected although it has been approved by their executive and has been in effect several weeks despite lack of co-operation by the Machinists' and Blacksmiths' Unions. The plan keeps the yards working through the week-end without overtime by staggering shifts to give men their days off on other days of the week.

Possibility the voting may be extended to Friday to assure a complete vote will be discussed at a meeting of the union tonight.

While the 7,400 union members marked their ballots a shipyard executive said disruption of the continuous production schedule would result in the laying off of 800 men in one large Vancouver yard alone.

George E. Hartnell, acting agent, Department of Transport, advises mariners that the light on Whale Rock buoy, Esquimalt Harbor, has been changed from flashing white to flashing red.

The buoy is moored in 9½ feet of water, distant 1370 feet, 290 degrees, 35 minutes, true from the southern extremity of the southwestern, 12-foot high, Inskip Islands and consists of an 8-foot square wooden platform surmounted by a pyramidal superstructure painted red and black horizontal bands with red lantern on top.

Low Fares Will Bring

WINNIPEG — For two mid-summer periods covering vacation weeks the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways have authorized special 30-day round-trip fares to the Pacific coast, Okanagan points, to Banff and to Jasper, it is announced by the Canadian Passenger Association, according to J. A. Brass, secretary.

Recognition of holiday needs for prairie dwellers has permitted an arrangement whereby these tickets will be on sale June 26, 27 and 28 and July 10, 11 and 12 at an economical rate.

Bladder Weakness and Kidney Trouble Ruin
Health for Thousands

There are few ailments that can make you feel older, more worn-out and unable to keep going than bladder weakness and kidney trouble. And the reason for this is that when your kidneys and bladder slow down in their work, uric acid and other poisons gradually accumulate in your system and frequently cause backache, getting up nights, leg pain, nervousness, rheumatic pains, frequent colds and loss of energy.

Help Kidneys Remove Acids

Women, and men too, will be surprised and delighted to see how quickly and easily they can relieve backache, getting up nights, burning passages and other kidney and bladder troubles by simply aiding the kidneys and bladder to filter and clean out excess acids and poisonous wastes.

As we grow older our kidneys at times may slow down in their work of filtering and purifying the blood. And when this happens uric acid, and other poisons have a tendency to accumulate in the system, making you feel older, more worn-out and unable to keep going. But by simply aiding the kidneys and bladder to filter and clean out excess acids and poisonous wastes, you can feel younger, more energetic and more normally than before.

Forty years ago a scientific formula called Cystex was made available to the public.

Money Back Agreement

The very first dose of Cystex usually goes right to work helping the kidneys remove excess acids, poisons and wastes. And this cleansing, purifying action in just a day or so may make you feel younger, stronger and better than in years. A printed agreement wrapped around each package of Cystex insures an immediate refund of all your money unless you are completely satisfied. You have everything to gain and nothing to lose under this positive money back offer. Get Cystex from your drug store today for only 25¢. The money back offer protects you.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market today took the Japanese bombing of Dutch Harbor in stride and leading industrials were bid up fractions to around two points.

Motors and specialties accounted for the principal strength and a number of favorites touched best levels for the year. Gains were reduced in most categories before the close. Transfers, approximately 500,000 shares, were the largest since May 21.

Du Pont pushed up in the face of an indictment of this company, together with several other explosives manufacturers, on charges of violating anti-trust laws.

United Aircraft slipped to a new bottom for 1942 before getting support.

Only change among Canadian stocks was a loss of ¼ for Canadian Pacific.

Dorothy Dix: Wife Admits Mistake In Remaining Childless

Dear Miss Dix: A young woman, the mother of three little children, works in the same office where I do. Her husband deserted her and the children, and she is their sole support. It is a struggle for her to make both ends meet, but she is the happiest person I know. She gives her children every minute of her time at home. Never indulges in outside pleasures. Never wants any other interest. Thinks being a mother is the most wonderful thing in the world, and feels that she will be rewarded for all the sacrifices she makes when she gives three fine citizens to the world.

I belong to the group of women who refuse to have children because we don't want to be bothered with them. We want to go about and amuse ourselves all the time and children are in the way. Now I realize, when it is too late, the terrible mistake I made, for I could have been even happier with children than this woman is as I have a husband who is a good provider and a fine man. I am working now only because I got tired of running around and I was bored to extinction with nothing to do.

READER.

Answer: There is no denying that motherhood, properly taken, is the one sure antidote for boredom and that what shall I do to kill time feeling that afflicts so many women after they have gotten tired of running around to night clubs and playing bridge and have come to perceive that men ask them to dance only as a means of doing their daily boy scout good deed. Mothers always have a pressing engagement for the next minute. They never have to go outside of the home to hunt for an occupation, and inasmuch as only the busy are contented they are in on the ground floor when it comes to happiness.

According to the old proverb, a baby in the house is a well spring of joy. It is that, and it is something more. It is a source of never-ending interest and diversion. It is a one-man show that never palls on you, for it gives a new program every day. It begins in the hospital when it is a guessing contest as to what color its eyes are; whether it takes after your side of the family which is handsome, or whether it is homely like its mother's. It picks up interest when it first starts to use its clumsy little hands, and you get the finest thrill you ever had when he makes a sound that might be translated into da-da and shows signs of human intelligence.

And it goes on through the schoolboy age and the adolescent period, and the time when you throw out your chest and brag about "my boy" who is graduating cum laude at college, and you get the love motif every time he falls in love with a new girl, and so on and on and on, for you never lose interest in your children and they are the most important thing in the world to you as long as you live.

Surely the people who cut themselves out of the finest of all human experiences by not having children miss the greatest happiness that life can offer them. For there comes a time when we grow weary of ourselves, when we realize that all of our cards have been played and no new deal is coming to us. It is then that we live again in our children and our grandchildren and believe that they will do all the things we failed to do.

MARRY THE GIRL

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am 19 years old, and have been going with a girl for some time with whom I think I am in love. In fact, I am pretty sure I am. I have always treated this girl with the greatest respect, but after hearing the boys I work with talk about the petting parties they have with their girls, I thought maybe I was a back number, so I pulled some fresh stuff with my girl.

Well, she was furious and told me that if it ever happened again everything was off between us, and was I sore! But when I discussed the incident with the fellows at the shop, they said that if I have a girl who is THAT decent I should appreciate her and marry her, for she is one in a thousand. Do you think I should appreciate her decency and stick to her, or quit her because she won't do what I want her to do?

LONELY WITHOUT HER.

Answer: I side with the boys in the shop and so do you, if you are honest with yourself. Girls with loose morals and low standards may be amusing playthings, but when a man marries he wants a wife in whose integrity he can believe as he does in God. He wants a wife he can trust, and he knows well enough that the girl who has not the backbone and the principle to stand up for what she knows to be right will yield to any tempter who comes along.

HE'S NO FRIEND IN NEED.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have a husband who has a terrible temper. Whenever anything goes wrong at the office he comes home and takes it out on me and the children. The other day when he came home he found me sick in bed, the baby with the measles, and the little boy threatened with croup. He was so mad he packed his bags and went to his mother's, where he has been ever since. That was three weeks ago and he has not even telephoned to find out how we were getting along. What should I do?

ALICE.
Answer: Let him stay with Mother. That kind of a husband isn't worth bothering about.

Sailors and Aviators Battled Atlantic Sharks

More than once in the present war the danger of sharks has come to men struggling in the water of the ocean.

Perhaps the strangest adventure of that kind was met by Gordon Annison and William Nash. They were sailors aboard an Australian vessel torpedoed in the south Atlantic. Later they turned up in England with the story of what happened to them.

"We were swimming toward a raft," said Annison, "when I saw a shark coming. It attacked Bill first, and with a swipe of its fin laid his right hand bare. He had no weapon with which to meet the attack."

"I looked around for an oar, but there was none nearby, so I piled in with my fists. I caught the thing with several blows, and at last it sheared off and swam away."

The Australians reached their raft, having suffered only minor bruises. They floated around for a time, then were picked up by a British warship. They were taken to a village on the western coast of Africa and placed in a hospital. Later they were transported to England.

Another shark adventure fell to the lot of four R.A.F. aviators, also in the south Atlantic. Their Hudson plane was forced down some miles from the African coast, and sank within a minute or two after it struck the water.

One of the aviators made haste to toss out the rubber "dinghy" carried aboard the plane.

Before they could climb aboard the rubber boat, two sharks came swimming toward them. One of the men reached for the paddle and used it to strike at the nearest shark. In his excitement, however, he let the paddle slip from his hand and it drifted away.

The captain of the airplane crew ordered the men to take hold of opposite parts of the rubber boat. They kept watch over one another's shoulders, and when shark fins were seen, they all splashed with their feet.

The sharks were kept at a distance, and the tired men at length clambered aboard the dinghy. They floated around for several hours before being spotted by an

Teachers Joining Up Will Not Lose Jobs

All members of the Saanich schools' teaching staff joining the ranks of the armed services will be assured of their jobs upon their return and will receive an extra month's pay in advance it was decided at a meeting of the Saanich school board Wednesday night. The meeting was held in the new offices of the board on Boleskine Road, instead of at Royal Oak.

This move, introduced by Martin Neilson, chairman, will also see that the staff members' superannuation allowances will be kept up by the board. A circular telling of the board's proposal will be sent to each of the teachers of Saanich schools.

J. Gough, municipal inspector of schools, reported that a thorough survey of the schools of the district is being carried out under his direction with the object of determining where alterations to the direct interest of the board and students will be made. Principals of each school are preparing the necessary data on a large map, showing the population of the various schools, and showing where changes are necessary.

He stressed the fact that it is of major importance that parents, having children who will be enrolling in Saanich schools in September, register the new pupils at schools on or before Friday.

In making a tour of all schools of the municipality, Mr. Gough spoke to students directly, dealing with the need for wearing identification discs, the value of finger-printing, and salvage work among the students.

Graduation exercises of Mt. Douglas High School will be held Friday afternoon, when academic and athletic awards will be presented by members of the board. The board decided to call for tenders for painting and redecorating the district schools. A complete clean-up, paint-up drive for the municipality's schools is planned.

Local Man Plays With Philharmonic

Making his first appearance with the Toronto Philharmonic Orchestra, James S. Mackay, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Mackay, 837 St. Charles Street, will be heard with that orchestra over the CBC network tonight at 7.15.

Mackay is a native son and started his musical career with the Empress Hotel Orchestra.

Big Contracts Let for Defence Across Canada

TORONTO — Construction awards throughout Canada for the first five months of this year, according to MacLean Building Reports Limited, total $88,191,000. This is 32 per cent under the corresponding 1941 figure of $129,719,100. The May total, $23,895,400 exceeded the April figure by 6 per cent. Residential building led the other groups during May, the total being $8,971,800. Mass housing projects accounted for a good portion of this. Business and government-owned building followed with $8,373,300, while industrial projects totalled $4,630,500 and engineering $1,919,800.

It is evident that construction of all types which are necessary to the maximum conduct of the war continue to be active. Unnecessary building work is discouraged by licensing regulations and in many cases the proposals are abandoned.

LARGE AWARDS IN MAY

Construction contracts awarded in Canada during May where the value of the work undertaken exceeded $100,000 were as follows: Montreal, Que., plant, $2,500,000; Prince George, B.C., camp, $1,500,000; Ottawa, office bldg., $734,000; Ontario, roadwork, $398,000; Ottawa, office bldg., $500,000; Sudbury, Ont., railway station, $268,000; Esquimalt, B.C., wartime housing, $250,000; Havre St. Pierre, Que., hospital, $200,000; Cap De La Madeleine, Que., 100 houses, $200,000; Chicoutimi, Que., wartime housing, $200,000; Jonquiere, Que., wartime housing, $200,000; St. Catharines, Ont., wartime housing, $200,000; Kenogami, Que., wartime housing, $200,000; Brantford, Ont., addl. accom., $200,000; Hagersville, Ont., hangars, $200,000; Longueuil, Que., plant addition, $150,000; Shelburne, N.S., rly. siding, $150,000; Prince Rupert, B.C., 2 staff houses, $150,000; Niagara Falls, Ont., wartime housing, $125,000; Hull, Que., wartime housing, $125,000; Penitence, Ont., buildings, $120,000; Fort William, foundry, $115,000; Niagara Falls, wartime housing, $100,000; Amherst, N.S., wartime housing, $100,000; British Columbia, shelters, $100,000; New Westminster, B.C., depot, $100,000; Patricia Bay, B.C., shelters, $100,000; Trenton, Ont., hangars, $100,000; Mount Hope, Ont., hangar, $100,000; Chilliwick, B.C., camp, $100,000; Peterboro, Ont., staff house, $100,000; Red Deer, Alta., buildings, $100,000.

Red Cross Notes

VICTORIAN RECEIVES WORD OF RELATIVES

Mrs. Em. Barrow of 1711 Haultain street, Victoria, writes Red Cross headquarters as follows: "In a few words I wish to express my praise for joy that has come to me due to work done by a wonderful organization, the Red Cross. I have my family in Belgium, my father, four sisters and two brothers and their families, and have not heard from them since March, 1940. I worried so that I became ill. I have been told not to, but I have seen the last war and know what it is all about. Now my state of mind is good again, as last August I received a message that they were safe, and again a few days ago received another one through the Red Cross, so I feel that we all should do what we can to help the Red Cross as lots of mail is reaching the families of our boys, letting them know of their fate. To me the Red Cross will always be a dear memory all my life, so to you voluntary workers I say thank you with all my heart."

War Board Frowns On Sugar Raffle

Wartime Prices and Trade Board regional office in Vancouver is checking certain charitable organizations, particularly in the Victoria area, which have been holding raffles and offering sugar as a prize.

In one Victoria case a prize of 10 pounds of sugar was offered. This is against the sugar rationing regulations, and officials of organizations who follow this practice not only lay themselves open to a charge of violating the law, but the retailer who sells them the sugar for such purpose is also liable, board officials point out.

With the sugar ration now cut to half a pound per person per week, offering of this commodity as a prize in drawings is more than ever a breach of the law.

School Merger Plan Studied in Nanaimo

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—A plan of educational reform, including consolidation of many rural schools in the Nanaimo district, will be discussed at a meeting here tonight, to which all school trustees have been invited.

The reform plan designed by Education Minister Perry and his adviser, Dr. S. J. Willis, has four objectives in view:

1. To provide a greater equality of educational opportunity for the pupils of schools affected.
2. To alleviate the present "inequalities" in taxation for school purposes.
3. To reduce the gross cost of education in the proposed educational area.
4. To release a considerable number of teachers for positions elsewhere in the province where they are urgently needed.

Women's Benefit Association met in the S.O.E. Hall with the president, Mrs. Stephen, in the chair. Arrangements were made for the annual memorial service at the First Baptist Church, June 14. Next sewing meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. L. Ritchie, 2614 Roseberry Avenue, June 10, with Mesdames Henson, Schmeiz and Malcolm assisting the hostess. A report was given of the twilight tea which netted approximately $30, to be turned over to the city A.R.P. fund. The junior supervisor, Mrs. C. Payne, thanked all who contributed towards the success of the affair. The Pioneer Club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. Winter, 320 Arnold Avenue, June 26. The social meeting of the review will take the form of a card party, convened by Mrs. E. Addison, assisted by Mesdames Mattison, Baillies, Ritchie, McAllister and Thompson. Bridge, 500-and-whist will be played.
